MEDIUMS FROM THIRTY CITIES TO DEFEND WILL

Leaders of Spiritualistic Cult Summoned in Crumbaugh Contest.

SPIRIT PICTURE SHOWN

Likeness of "Bright Eyes" as He Grew Up in Another Life.

LINCOLN IMPERSONATED

Husband Says Woman, in Ghastly Tones, Commanded Gift of Money.

By a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 4.—Thirty spiritualist leaders from various places in the United States have been subpenaed as witnesses in the contest, now being tried here, of the will of Banker J. T. Crumbaugh.

They will be used to combat the testimony that Crumbaugh was duped by Mrs. Isaac Pemberton and other mediums, leaving almost all his $500,000 fortune for the building and maintenance of a spiritualist temple at Leroy, a small town, twenty miles east of here, where he lived.

The heirs, cut off with total bequests of $3000, are trying to have the will set aside on the ground of undue influence. They have emphasized the charge that the mediums offered Crumbaugh frequent communications from "Bright Eyes," which was the mediums' name for Crumbaugh's dead son.

Lincoln's Shade Invoked.

Testimony was offered today to show that the mediums also strove to influence the banker by invoking the spirit of Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. Pemberton is charged with having impersonated the martyred President. Her husband testified that she wrapped herself in a lace curtain, rubbed with phosperous, and then, in ghastly accents, droned:

"This is Abraham Lincoln talking. Better build that church with your money."

She was talking in a darkened room, where Crumbaugh sat at a table. Pemberton explained that she impersonated Lincoln only as a last resort. She played him as a trump card after previously assuming several other characters, including "Bright Eyes."

Pemberton testified that "Bright Eyes" and others, from the depths of glowing lace curtains, had previously urged Crumbaugh to make a will and leave his fortune for the establishment and maintenance of the temple at Leroy.

Letters Without Hands.

Pemberton was on the stand and also identified a number of letters as being in the handwriting of a medium named Mrs. Rawley, half of which were supposed to have been written by lead pencils, induced to rise from a table and write without human assistance. Arguments on the admission of these and other letters occupied the Court's attention this morning.

Immediately in front of the Judge's desk, as the attorneys argued, was a large gilt-framed oil painting of a man about 28 years old, wearing a heavy black mustache. This is an alleged copy of a "spirit picture" of "Bright Eyes." It is an exhibit in the case.

Painted by Spirits.

According to stories told by the late Mr. Crumbaugh, he caused this painting to be made by a Chicago artist from a canvas on which the features of "Bright Eyes" were spiritually traced at Lillyvale, N. Y., in 1904.

Crumbaugh's son died when six weeks old. The painting was advertised as representing the son as he had grown to manhood in the spirit land.

It is the record of the case that, when Ralph Miller asked Crumbaugh how his son happened to be pictured with a clean shave, the eccentric banker replied: "Oh, there are just as good barber shops in spirit land as there are here."

The heirs succeeded once in their suit in the Circuit Court here, but the Supreme Court reversed the verdict. Now the contestants think they have more effective evidence.

The part played by the shade of Abraham Lincoln is one of their new bits of evidence.

FISH QUITS MISSOURI PACIFIC

Leaves Directorate Because He Hasn't Spare Time.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Stuyvesant Fish today tendered his resignation as a member of the Board of Directors and of the Executive Committee of the Missouri Pacific Railway Co.

The reason assigned was that Mr. Fish was unable because of press of other duties to give the attention to Missouri Pacific that he thought his duty demanded.

"STRAWBERRY EDITH" IS THE LATEST PALATE TICKLER FOR AMERICAN EPICURES

Noted Chef Leaves Recipe as Souvenir When He Sails for Europe.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Before sailing for Europe Maitre Escoffier the famous chef who invented many dishes that made Emperor William forget the charms of beer and sausage, and who knows how to cook eggs in 168 different ways, left as a token of his appreciation his latest invention in the gastronomical line. The day he was to sail he placed before James B. Reagan of the Knickerbocker, whose guest he had been for a week, a dish of which strawberries was the foundation. Regan wanted more, but there was no more. It was the only sample of the new dish, and Maitre Escoffier had tried it on Regan to see if it was worthy of leaving as a souvenir. He said it was "The Strawberry Edith," and something entirely new.

It was offered to the guests of the Knickerbocker that night and made a great hit at 85 cents a dish. The demand for the recipe was so great that Mr. Egan made it public. Here it is:

"Fresh strawberries rolled in vanilla sugar, flavored with curacao-kirsch-maraschino. Dish in Melba dish, covered with whipped cream, flavored with vanilla sugar and violet leaves crushed."

Now New York wants to know who is "Edith," that a thing so good should be named for her?

KILLS HEN THAT LAYS NO EGGS; FINDS SILVER PIECE

Owner Thinks She Deemed Quarter Too Cheap for Quality of Her Products.

Gustave Semmelroth of 312 South Charles street, Belleville, had a valuable Leghorn hen which was famous in the neighborhood as a layer of eggs.

At Easter time, when eggs took a sudden slump in price and were so cheap as to be hardly worth the trouble of laying, the hen seemed to be discouraged and sad. Semmelroth thought she had the pip or, mayhap henhouse melancholia, and dosed her with hen remedies, but with no success.

Sunday morning Semmelroth guillotined her and then performed an autopsy. In her craw he found a silver quarter dollar.

"I see it all now," said Semmelroth sadly. "She evidently ate the quarter, and thought she had a contract to lay eggs at that price and, as a good union hen, and eggs are 33 cents a dozen, she couldn't do it. She was waiting for eggs to decline before going to work again."

MADISON COUNTY TEACHERS FAVOR MERRY WIDOW HATS

Four Hundred Delegates Wear Modish Headgear, 350 "M. W.'s" Being on View.

A mere man who attended the quarterly meeting of Madison County Teachers' Association at Edwardsville Saturday took the trouble to compile statistics on the headgear worn by the 400 women delegates.

He found that the tradition that schoolmarms wear hats that look like fried eggs has no foundation in fact, and, being a pedagogue himself, he is going to write a monograph about it.

He found that 350 of the fair teachers wore merry widows and the other fifty were adorned with the latest "mushroom" headgear.

Every hat in the hall was strictly up to date.

SIX RAILROADS FINED FOR DELAYING CATTLE TRAINS

$13,150 Is Amount Assessed in 95 Cases, One Company Contesting.

CHICAGO, May 4.—In 95 cases brought by the Government against six railroad companies charging violation of the 28-hour law for the transportation of cattle, Judge Landis in the United States District Court today imposed fines aggregating $13,150. The railroads and the fines are:

Rock Island, 45 cases, fined $6550; Northwestern, 26 cases, $3600; Illinois Central, 9 cases, $1100; St. Paul, 7 cases, $950; Santa Fe, 6 cases, $750; Burlington, 2 cases, $200.

The majority of the fines were imposed on pleas of guilty, but in all cases the Chicago & Northwestern pleaded not guilty.

POLICE CLEAR WAY FOR START OF A. G. VANDERBILT'S COACH

First Trip From London to Brighton Draws Crowd of Enthusiastic Britons.

LONDON, May 4.—It took police reserves to clear a way today for A. G. Vanderbilt's coach to start on its first trip from London to Brighton. Thousands of curious Britons completely blocked Trafalgar Square and the adjoining streets.

The crowd was a friendly one, however, and fairly screamed itself hoarse with enthusiasm. The start was made from the Victoria Hotel. The coach was loaded to its capacity, inside and out, with passengers, from whom the guard had rigorously exacted the fares.

Vanderbilt himself, shorn of his mustache, high-hatted and long-coated, looked the typical coachman.

Woman Drowned in Swollen Creek.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., May 4.—Mrs. A. Thompson was drowned in West Muddy Creek Sunday. The creek was very high and in attempting to ford it the bed of the vehicle was washed from the running gear, carrying Mrs. Thomsen down the creek.

WOMEN POUND MASHER; JUDGE FINES HIM $500

Can of Sardines and One of Peaches Are Effective Weapons.

DOCTORS SEW UP CUTS

Victim Accosted Mother and Daughter Returning From Grocery.

Joseph Orlando, masher, of 1119 North Seventh street, who was beaten with a can of peaches by Julia Doddy, a blonde divorcee, and with a can of sardines by her mother, Mrs. Maggie Doddy of 1417 Biddle street, will have to pay $500 or spend quite a spell at the Workhouse. He was fined that amount by Judge Pollard in the Dayton Street Police Court Monday.

Accosted on Street.

Mrs. Doddy and her daughter, according to their testimony, were walking east on Biddle street between Fourteenth street and Blair avenue, when they were met by Orlando.

He kept to the center of the sidewalk and they separated to let him pass between them. Julia said he took hold of her and said something to her.

She and her mother had been to a grocery store. She had a can of peaches in her hand. She struck him with it. Mrs. Doddy joined in with a box of sardines.

Cans Made Him Run.

The sharp edges made such deep impressions on Orlando that he ran away. Policeman Smith caught up with him at Fifteenth and Biddle streets and arrested him. The dispensary doctors sewed up his wounds, after which he was taken to a cell.

He told Judge Pollard it was all a mistake. He had never seen the women before, he said. He accounted for his hurts by saying some man had hit him.

ROOSTER LEARNS TO SWIM

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ATHOL, Mass., May 4.—The favorite brown Leghorn rooster of Dr. David G. Coolidge possesses the remarkable accomplishments of being able to swim and to balance himself on his tail.

The rooster, which is exceedingly proud of his amphibious attainments, daily struts to the water's edge, accompanied by an awe-stricken retinue of hens who watch him take his bath. The explanation of the rooster's ability to swim is said to be that he was brooded with ducklings.

Dr. Coolidge will take pleasure in showing the rooster to any doubting nature faker.

JILTS MAN WHO BUYS TROUSSEAU; SAYS HE IS WED

Miss O'Connor Refuses to Join Canadian Because of Friends' Discovery.

HE ASKS ABOUT $200

Buckingham Telephone Operator Has Not Seen Drummer for Three Years.

Miss Charlotte O'Connor, telephone operator at the Buckingham Hotel, says she would have gone to Calgary, Canada, to wed if she had not found out that David Campbell, her suitor, who sent her $200 for the journey, was a married man.

She made that explanation to Detective Brennan when he called to see her Monday. Campbell wrote to Chief Creecy asking about his $200.

Miss O'Connor formerly was telephone operator at the Planters Hotel. Campbell was a traveling salesman and stayed at the Planters when in St. Louis. They became acquainted and he told her, Miss O'Connor says, that he was unmarried and represented to her that he owned property in Canada.

Saw Him Last in 1905.

The last time he was here was three years ago, but a correspondence was maintained and a month ago Miss O'Connor says he sent her $200, with directions to get what clothing she needed and come to Calgary and marry him.

She bought a trousseau, she says, and was about to start for Canada, when she learned from friends there that he was a married man.

He Writes to Police.

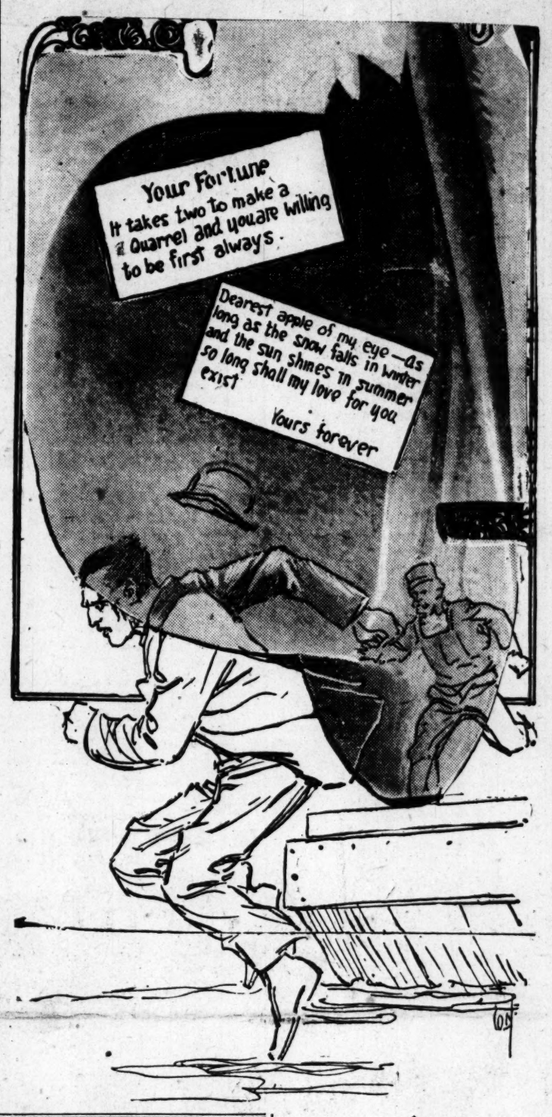

When she did not appear in Canada at the expected time Campbell wrote to the police here, telling them Miss O'Connor had his money and would not return it to him.

Miss O'Connor told Detective Brennan that she had spent the money for wedding clothes and could not return it to Campbell. She said Campbell should not expect her to return it to him.

BRIDE OF SIX DAYS ENDS LIFE

STERLING, ILL., May 4.—A bride of six days, Mrs. Roy Buntley of Milledgeville, this morning committed suicide by taking strychnine. Mrs. Buntley was married last Tuesday. No one had ever heard her complain and the cause of her action is unknown. Her husband is prostrated.

HAT AND FOOTPRINT ON RIVER BANK CLEWS TO SUICIDE'S NAME

MERRY WIDOW HAT BRUSHES PASTOR, POISONS HIS EYE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 4.—The Rev. G. L. Morrill, pastor of the People's Church, was forced to appear in his pulpit Sunday with one eye bandaged and with his sermon unprepared as a result of being injured by a merry widow hat.

HAT AND SHOE ONLY CLEWS TO SUICIDE'S NAME

Young Man, Strolling on the Levee, Suddenly Wheels and Leaps Into River.

A No. 7½ hat, made in Germany, the print of a No. 9 shoe in the soft mud of the river's bank and a printed card from a fortune-telling machine are the only clews to the identity of a tall, dark-haired young man who jumped into the Mississippi River at the foot of Tyler street Sunday afternoon.

On the face of the card is printed: "Your fortune. It takes two to make a quarrel, and you are willing to be the first always."

On the other side, also in print, is the sentiment: "Dearest apple of my eye, as long as the snow falls in winter and the sun shines in summer, so long shall my love for you exist."

Seen by Two Men.

Richard Hombauer and Walter Hutchinson, employes of the Wiggins Ferry Co., saw the young man walking along the levee with his hands behind his back shortly before 1 p. m. He kept his eyes on the ground and seemed to be in deep thought.

Suddenly he wheeled and walked rapidly down the levee. As he neared the water he took off his hat and held it poised high above his head as though making an elaborate salute.

As the men watched him he dropped the hat and jumped into the stream. They never saw him again, though they were ready to go to his aid in a boat.

The only description they can give of him is that he was well dressed, that his overcoat was long and black and that his hair was dark.

Crepe on His Hat.

The hat which he left behind him was wrapped with crepe and the card was sticking in the band. It was a derby hat of good make. A label in the crown read: "Von Waldersee, Unter-den-Linden, correct copy of Dunlap style, No. 846, Berlin."

The police of the North Market Street District have made a canvass of the neighborhood where the drowning occurred, but no one answering the description of the suicide is known there.

Congress Aids Cyclone Victims.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Senate today passed without amendment a House resolution appropriating $250,000 for the relief of the sufferers from the cyclone in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana on April 24, 1908. The Secretary of War is authorized to expend this money for purchases in the open market of supplies, medicine, etc.

CLEVELAND MAY NOT RECOVER, IS LATEST REPORT

Former President Is Unable to Take Medicine and Physicians Are Worried, It Is Said.

WIFE AND TWO NURSES CONSTANTLY AT BEDSIDE

Hundreds of Telegrams Inquiring as to Patient's Condition Pour Into Lakewood Hotel, but None Reach Invalid—Mrs. Cleveland Will Not Discuss Case.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., May 4.—Despite the great efforts of the members of the family to keep from the public the exact nature of the illness of former President Grover Cleveland and to minimize it as much as possible, it was learned on the highest authority this afternoon that not only is he a very sick man, but that he may not recover.

He cannot retain medicine on his stomach, and, in consequence, the attending physicians are greatly worried. Mrs. Cleveland, Dr. Joseph Bryant and two trained nurses are at his bedside in the Lakewood hotel. The telephone connection with their apartments has been muffled and at the hotel office it is stated that no messages will be taken to the wing occupied by the patient.

When told that it was reported that his patient was growing steadily weaker, Dr. Bryant this afternoon positively declined to say either that the report was or was not true. He did, however, admit that Mr. Cleveland is still "a sick man," but said professional ethics made it imperative for him to refuse to discuss the case.

"See Mrs. Cleveland," was his answer to every question.

"But she will not talk," he was told.

"Well, that is the more reason why I should not," was his answer.

More than a thousand telegrams asking about the condition of the former President have been received and delivered to the Lakewood Hotel, but none of them has been received either by Mr. or Mrs. Cleveland. They are being taken care of by the secretary.

Visitors' Cards Not Taken.

No one except the family, the physicians and nurses, has seen Mr. Cleveland for weeks. Sunday afternoon several of his Princeton friends drove over in automobiles.

The visitors were told that Mr. Cleveland could not be seen. William Becker, an assistant manager, who is in charge of the hotel, even refused to take their cards to the Cleveland apartments. He says not the slightest matter is brought to the attention of the patient.

John D. Rockefeller, who is at the Lakewood place, sent a message to the hotel inquiring about Mr. Cleveland's condition. Gov. Fort of New Jersey telephoned to the hotel, but was given no satisfaction.

Bulletins Are Wanted.

Friends of Mr. Cleveland criticise Dr. Bryant for refusing to give out any information. They say that with the entire country interested in the condition of the former President, bulletins should be issued from time to time. Although it has been unofficially said that Mr. Cleveland is suffering from stomach trouble and rheumatism, no positive statement on that score has come from the sick room.

The report that the patient has cancer of the stomach has gained considerable credence here. It is known that Mr. Cleveland is given very little medicine, and what he does take is principally to allay pain. Most of the nourishment he takes is milk toast and broth.

Mrs. Cleveland and Dr. Bryant went driving Sunday afternoon for about an hour. Mrs. Cleveland looked pale and worn. The carriage did not go more than a half-mile from the hotel.

The twin insurgents, rain and thunder, have captured the Weather Convention, ousting sunshine and south wind, the "regulars." A desperate fight between these forces is anticipated, but at present the insurgents seem to have all the best of it. This is indicated in the following bulletin today from the convention:

"Showers and thunderstorms tonight and Tuesday; moderate temperature."

Just before noon the sky became heavily overcast with clouds, and downtown, where the clouds were reinforced with a pall of smoke, the streets were in semi-darkness.

COMMISSION MAN'S WIFE ASKS DIVORCE AND ALIMONY

Mrs. Elizabeth Brockmann of 401 Euclid avenue filed suit in the Circuit Court Monday for divorce from Phillip H. Brockmann, who is connected with the F. P. Brockmann Commission Co. in the Merchants' Exchange.

The couple were married in Chicago, June 24, 1901, and Mrs. Brockmann says they separated Dec. 15, 1906.

She mentions another woman in her petition. She asks the restoration of her maiden name and alimony.

Mr. Brockmann said he left the Euclid avenue house last week. He declined to discuss his wife's allegations.

THAW LEAVES MATTEAWAN AND GOES TO JAIL

Will Not Return to Insane Asylum Pending Sanity Inquiry.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 4.—Temporarily, at least, Harry K. Thaw is out of the Matteawan Hospital for the Criminal Insane, as a result of today's proceedings on the writ of habeas corpus obtained in an effort to have him legally declared sane. He will remain in the Dutchess County Jail until the final decision on the writ is handed down. The formal hearing in the case will come before the Supreme Court here next Monday.

The adjournment was taken up on the request of a representative of the District Attorney of New York County, to give District Attorney Jerome an opportunity to appear in person to oppose Thaw's release from the asylum.

Thaw appeared to be in excellent health today, having gained fully twenty pounds in weight since his transfer to the asylum from the Tombs.

One of the interesting features of today's proceedings was an announcement that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, although she has brought suit for annulment of her marriage, will appear if necessary as a witness in her husband's behalf.

FANATIC COUPLE FREED OF CHILD MURDER CHARGE

Leader of Devil Chasers Held for Crime He Has Confessed.

BONDED AS WITNESSES

Judge Holds They Took No Responsible Part in Killing Girl.

EASTON, Pa., May 4.—Henry Smith and his wife, parents of Irene Smith, the little girl who was strangled to death by Robert Bachman, leader of the Devil Chasers, while he was in a religious frenzy at Nazareth, were today released from Northampton Prison on order of Judge Scott, who held there was no evidence to connect them with the death of the child.

Mrs. Bachman was released on the same ground. The writs of habeas corpus granted on Saturday were returned in court today, and, after brief statements by counsel for the prisoners, the Judge made his ruling. The Smiths and Mrs. Bachman were held in $3000 bail to appear as witnesses against Bachman.

Bachman's brother, a wealthy and prominent cement manufacturer, is on his way east from California, and it is stated that he will aid in the defense of the prisoner. The District Attorney declares Bachman will be indicted and tried for the murder of the Smith child.

To Seek Venue Change.

It is reported that the defense will ask for a change of venue on the ground that public sentiment is so strong against Bachman that he might not receive a fair and impartial trial.

The principal evidence against the prisoner is his confession, made to District Attorney McKeen the day after his arrest.

His answers and comments, now reproduced verbatim from the stenographer's notes, show a singular mixture of incoherence and cunning. He turned his back when asked whether there had been other human sacrifices.

Mr. McKeen asked first if he (Bachman) believed in the second coming of Christ, to which he replied in the affirmative. The examination then proceeded as follows:

Examination of Bachman.

Q. How did the child meet its death, Robert? A. Through me; by the will of God I choked the child to death and bumped its head on the floor.

Q. Did God tell you to do this, Robert? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many times did you choke the child? A. That don't help any now. This here is Christ being taken out. This is Christ delivered up by the powers of principalities, so that his knowledge will come before the powers and principalities of the world. This will all come out. This is all right. This here is just what it is supposed to be.

Q. Do you have any regret that you killed the child? A. No, sir. I cannot have. I couldn't do that for the world. I cannot go back.

Q. Did you know you were doing wrong when you killed the child? A. No, sir, I wasn't doing wrong; I was doing the will of God.

"Under Inspiration."

Q. When did God tell you to kill the child? A. The time I went at it—no, the time I held it down. I wasn't under inspiration to kill it until later on. I wasn't told to do it until later on. I was sitting on the child when I was told to do it.

Q. Then God told you to take the child's life? A. Yes.

Q. What reason did God give you, Robert, to take the child's life? A. No reason about what he says. A thing is said. He will tell you what to do.

Child a "Son of Perfidy."

Q. Did he say the child was possessed of the devil? A. You will do just what he says and you will come out all right. The child was a son of perfidy. Sitteth upon the throne of God exalting everything that which is good. That was the last enemy. That was death.

Q. Did you chase the child around and catch it? A. Yes; partly.

Q. In the room? A. No, it was trying to get—no, I won't say that—I won't give you that.

Q. The child was lying in the crib, wasn't it? A. No; I won't say any more about that.

Q. Did the others try to stop you? A. No.

Q. They were all willing the will of God should be done? A. I don't have their mind.

Murderer's Cunning Evasion.

Q. When you killed the child, did you know you were killing the girl? A. Yes; but I didn't know whether God would put the life back again or not.

Q. Did you think God would protect the child. A. I thought the life was out at the time, but I did not know whether he put the life back again or not.

Q. Did you try, by the will of God, to resurrect the child? A. No, sir; the child is in heaven, where God wanted it, and there is where He will put me—see?

Q. Are you in heaven now? A. Yes.

WOMEN CAN STOP ALL SMOKING IN CARS IF THEY CAN "SHOW" M'CULLOCH

He Will Put Lid on It if Convinced That Public Favors That Course.

If women will show Capt. McCulloch, general manager of the United Railways, that smoking in the cars is opposed by public sentiment he will put the lid on it. He said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Monday.

"Personally, I would much prefer that there be no smoking inside the cars," he said, "but as manager of the street railway system I do not feel like taking the initiative against it and incur the enmity of many passengers. If some one would take up the question on the outside and clearly show that sentiment is against the practice I would be glad to give the movement all the support I can.

"I am convinced that the number of persons to whom smoking in the cars is offensive is much larger than the number of persons who want to smoke. But as matters now stand I feet that if I issued an order against it I might be accused of making an arbitrary ruling.

"Many persons do not deserve the privilege of smoking in the three rear seats accorded them in the summer time. Some smoke vile, ill-smelling pipes and others insist on smoking in all parts of the car. They watch the conductor and take a puff when he is not looking."

GIRL'S FAKE SUICIDE WINS HER DILATORY SUITOR'S PROPOSAL

Scatters Acid About Room, Touches It to Lips, Then Says She Will Be His.

CHICAGO, May 4.—A fake suicide is the best of all the leap year schemes, according to Miss Maud White, 6400 Madison avenue, even if it does attract the attention of the police.

In answer to a call saying a woman had attempted to commit suicide by taking poison, a wagon load of bluecoats hurried to the residence of Miss White. When the police broke in the door they found the "suicide" sitting in the lap of George Williams, the janitor. A bottle which had contained carbolic acid was on the floor, while the fluid had been spilled around.

"I knew he would love me if I was going to die, so I used the poison. I only touched a little of it to my lips," she explained to the police as they retreated.

JURY IS SLECTED TO TRY PASTOR'S SUIT FOR SLANDER

The Rev. Mr. Kuhlmann Asks $10,000 From Former Parishioner on East Side.

The jury before which the slander suit for $10,000 was brought by the Rev. Father Charles Kuhlman of Mascoutah against Emil Kiefer of East St. Louis was selected in East St. Louis Monday.

Father Kuhlman formerly was rector of St. Elizabeth's Parish in East St. Louis, but was removed to Mascoutah by Bishop Janssen on complaint of certain parishioners, led by Emil Kiefer, who charged that Father Kuhlman had been in the parish 15 years and had succeeded in doing no more than build the foundation of the new church.

There are two factions in the parish, one opposed to the rector and the other friendly to him.

HUSBAND THREW MONEY IN WIFE'S FACE; SHE GETS DECREE

Dashes Wash Water on Her and Pawns Jewels, She Tells Judge.

After she had told how her husband threw money in her face and otherwise annoyed her, Mrs. Ethel Johnson of 2116 Eugenia street was granted a divorce from Edwin Johnson Monday.

They were married in Texas in 1902.

"Once when I told him that I paid the rent he pulled a lot of small change from his pocket and threw it in my face," Mrs. Johnson testified.

"Every time my husband got into debt he would draw his salary from the Terminal company and leave town. He used to pawn his jewelry and I would have to redeem it.

"One time he came home and insisted on sleeping with his clothes on. When I reproached him he threatened me with a butcher knife.

"Another time he was making his toilet and I was frying chicken. He told me to get his socks and I told him to wait a minute, and he took his feet out of the basin and threw the water in my face."

QUARRY MURDER CLEW POINTS TO WOMAN SLAYER

Police Sure Corespondent Was Killed and Club Involves Two.

HUSBAND HELD IN CELL

Mrs. De Carsey, Divorce Defendant, Denies She Harmed Indiana Man.

BEDFORD, Ind., May 4.—Two months after he had been named as co-respondent in a successful suit for divorce, Joseph Kapshaw of Oolitic, Ind., was murdered and his body, encased in burlap, tightly bound with wire, was thrown into a pool of water at the bottom of an old stone quarry near Oolitic, where it was found late Saturday. He had been missing since March 24.

Charles De Corsey, who obtained a divorce on allegations involving Kapshaw, was arrested today as a suspect, and it is believed that within a few hours a woman will be taken itno custody.

In a room this woman left recently a club was found concealed inside the plastering, and the walls and floor bore red stains.

Woman's Watch on Body.

Mrs. De Corsey's gold watch was found on Kapshaw's body. She says she had given it to him, and denies that she knows anything about his death.

"I would not have harmed him," she declared. "I loved him better than anyone in the world."

Since her disappearance on March 24 the authorities had been unable to obtain a clew to Kapshaw's disappearance, and they finally reached the conclusion that he had departed voluntarily because of the notoriety he received in connection with the divorce.

The search was practically abandoned, but was revived suddenly as the result of a dream.

Kapshaw's aunt, Mrs. Joseph Fox, with whom the victim of the tragedy had lived since his boyhood, dreamed she saw her nephew attacked and struck on the head with a club, and that his body had been cast into the old "Hosier" quarry.

The vision made such an impression on her that she insisted the quarry pool be searched. The body was found there, and the Coroner immediately stated it was a case of murder.

$2000 Fund to Catch Slayer.

A young man was arrested Sunday, but was released for lack of evidence. Then the authorities decided to hold De Corsey on suspicion. Citizens today subscribed $2000 to be used in tracking down the slayer, and it is expected that a woman will be arrested today or tomorrow.

MADE TO STOP FLIRTING, PRISONERS START BEDLAM

New Jersey Convicts Resent Closing of Window Overlooking the Street.

TRENTON, N. J., May 4.—Convicts at the State prison here inaugurated a new kind of strike, when the prison officers put an end to flirtations they have been carrying on with women and girls in the street outside the building. Every man in the new wing, which faces the street, joined in yelling like lunatics when the windows were closed.

The new wing has been a source of much annoyance to the keepers because of the view of the street it gives. In the last few weeks many women, who seem to delight in the attentions of convicts, have made a practice of walking by and flirting with the men behind the bars.

BAILEY'S VICTORY IS SURE

Texas Senator's Majority Is Estimated at 20,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 4.—Complete returns of Saturday's Democratic primary election are not yet available, but there is no doubt that Senator Joseph W. Bailey was elected a delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention by not less than 20,000 majority over the ticket headed by Cone Johnson. Both the Bailey and Johnson tickets were pledged to support W. J. Bryan for President, and the personality of Senator Bailey was the only issue before the voters.

Partial returns show Bailey, 39,140; Johnson, 80,593. Bailey's majority, 18,547. It is believed that 25,000 votes are yet to be reported.

MOTHER OF MALADIES

Dyspepsia Said to be Responsible for Most Diseases.

A noted specialist on stomach troubles stated that in Germany dyspepsia is referred to as the "Mother of Maladies" owing to the fact that so many serious and complicated human ailments have their origin in defective digestion.

The following simple prescription comes from a physician of prominence and is said to work wonders in correcting the stomach and bowels and restoring them to their normal activity, quickly relieving belching, sour stomach, dizziness, distress after eating, etc.

Two ounces of essence of pepsin; three ounces syrup of ginger; one ounce catandir compound; mix well and use in doses of from one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal, also at bedtime for the first few days.

The catandir compound is the product of the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co. of Chicago, and it as well as the other ingredients can be obtained at any drug store and easily mixed at home. • • •

SENTENCED TO LIFE TERM, SAYS "MUCH OBLIGED"

Prisoner Declares He Is Glad He Killed Wife's Parents.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., May 4.—Joseph B. Blunt, a liquor salesman of this city, who last Saturday morning shot and killed Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones, his wife's parents, in their home here, was today sentenced to life imprisonment in the State Penitentiary at Jackson. Blunt said "much obliged," when the Judge passed sentence on him.

Before going to court he declared he never felt better in his life, and that if any attempt was made to show that he was insane when he shot his father-in-law and mother-in-law he would obtain an attorney and fight it.

"The old folks always made trouble for us," he said, "and I'm glad I did it. If I had it to do over again I would get the whole bunch."

Blunt says he never intended to kill his wife.

LUYTIES BUYS PICTURES; WILL BUILD CHURCH TO HOLD THEM

Plans Non-Sectarian Gift Enterprise at Kenwood Springs, St. Louis County.

One hundred and thirty pictures depicting the life of Christ, copies of Tissot paintings, bought by Herman C. G. Luyties, for less than $1,000, though worth much more, are to be hung in a non-sectarian church, to be built by him at Kenwood Springs, St. Louis County.

The collection was recently exhibited at 3723 Olive street by a man named Genelli, who tired of showing them. Mrs. Luyties saw them and was so well pleased with them that she urged her husband to buy them.

Explaining Monday his intention of building a church at Kenwood Springs, he said: "In the first place, my home is there. It is a very pretty place. A church is needed. When I was a young man my family wanted me to enter the ministry. I did not do so. I am going to try to make up for it by building a church."

TAFT MISSION TO ISTHMUS IS TO HEAD OFF WAR

Colombia Fears Panama Is Plotting With Venezuela to Bring About Hostilities.

CARTHAGENA, Colombia, May 4.—The Government at Colombia has reasons to believe that Panama is intriguing with Venezuela to declare war upon this country. It is known that the occupation of Jurado, on the Atrato River, the boundary line between Panama and Colombia, has angered the Panama Government.

One of Secretary Taft's missions to Panama is to try to adjust the matter. It is believed the American Government is aware of the effort of Panama to induce Venezuela to make war upon Colombia.

Secretary Taft sailed from Charleston Saturday and should reach the canal zone this week.

INFECTION AND CONTAGION

HOUSEHOLD CAUTIONED.

Disinfect Freely this Spring.

Infectious and contagious diseases are prevalent. The use of a reliable disinfectant protects the household. The last thing at night pour into the traps of the closets, wash-basins, sinks, etc., just a little Platt's Chlorides. Places where disease germs may develop, nooks behind plumbing and all spots that can't be reached by the scrubbing brush should be freely sprinkled with a mixture of one (1) part of Platt's Chlorides and ten (10) parts of water. This dilution costs less than 5 cents a quart. Do not neglect a liberal sprinkling of the cellar. To remove objectionable odors where sprinkling is inadvisable, keep a cloth or sponge moistened with the dilution mentioned. A little extra care just now may prevent much sickness and expense. Platt's Chlorides is an odorless, colorless liquid disinfectant which instantly destroys foul odors and disease-breeding matter. It is sold by druggists everywhere in full quart bottles, and is prepared only by Henry B. Platt.

CATCHES FISH WITH ONLY HIS FINGER AS BAIT

Robert Koenitzen Accidentally Finds New Way of Landing Carp.

THOUGHT IT OCTOPUS

Keeper Made Him Throw His Catch Back Into O'Fallon Park Lake.

Robert Koenitzen, president of a North St. Louis tannery, knows how to catch a carp. As a fisherman he is "the big finger" and he scorns the use of bait, except as nature has provided.

He can capture the largest and liveliest carp single-handed, without hook, line, cork or sinker. He has tried it and knows that his scheme is the best ever.

Mr. Koenitzen and a friend were out for a boat ride on O'Fallon Park Lake. He sat in the stern of the skiff while his companion handled the oars.

Like most persons who ride in a boat, he could not resist the temptation to put his hand in the clear, cool water.

The man at the oars heard a startled cry:

"Stop the boat. Put on the brakes. Pull the sand lever."

"What's the matter?"

"Something's got me by the finger," cried Koenitzen.

"Guess it's a cramp."

"No, I think it's an octopus."

"It can't be. The city owns the Waterworks."

With a mighty yank which almost upset the boat Koenitzen pulled his hand from the water.

A wriggling, squirming, five-pound carp had swallowed his index finger.

Both men combined their efforts to pry it loose and threw it in the bottom of the boat.

Koenitzen was leaving the park with his fish when a man stopped him.

"How did you catch it?" he asked.

"With my finger," replied Koenitzen.

"And what kind of a fish is it?"

"A German carp—go over to the lake and stick your finger in. Maybe you'll get one."

"No," said his questioner, walking away. "It wouldn't work. It's not the finger of an O'Rourke that would excite the hunger of a German carp."

"O, I don't know," said Koenitzen. "A carp is a sucker. He'll bite on most anything."

Koenitzen was leaving the park with his fish when the keeper overtook him and threatened to have him arrested for fishing in the lake. As a compromise Koenitzen had to take the fish back and put it where he found it.

JOHNSON WON'T ACCEPT SECOND PLACE ON TICKET

His Washington Bureau Says He Seeks Only Nomination for the Presidency.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Rumors of combinations, with the end in view of nominating Gov. Johnson of Minnesota for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket, were denied today at the Johnson headquarters in this city, and the following statement was given out:

"Gov. Johnson is in the race for the presidential nomination. If by any chance he fails to get the presidential nomination, he will not, under any circumstances, accept the vice-presidential nomination."

TEAM RUNS AWAY AND FARMER IS KILLED BY WAGON WHEEL

Child Runs From House to Take Ride and Horses Take Fright.

Joseph Daniels, 50 years old, foreman at the Handley & Spangler farm, at Elm Point, four miles west of St. Charles, Mo., was run over by a wagon at the farm Monday. His spine was fractured and he died in a short time.

Daniels and Handley were about to start to the sawmill to get lumber. Ida Spangler, the 8-year-old daughter of John Spangler, was to go along. As she ran out of the house the team took fright and dashed down the road. After going a hundred yards both men were thrown out. A wheel passed over Daniels' body. He was carried to the house and Dr. Johnson of St. Charles was called, but before he arrived the man was dead. Coroner Ilch will hold an inquest.

Daniels' home was at Decatur, Ill. His father and brother, who live there, have been notified.

TEN DEPUTIES PULL 5 GIRLS OUT OF SPRING

Holy Rollers Horrify Bromide, Ok., by Disrobing in Public.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BROMIDE, Ok., May 4.—Mayor Isaac Smith of Bromide swore in 10 additional police officers today to preserve the peace. A band of Holy Rollers landed in town last night and this morning took possession of the several springs without regard to common usage and the ordinance of the new town.

Wade Into City's Springs.

The "happy band of religionists," as they call themselves, proceeded to make the new town hideous by their loud acclaim and the beating of drums and the tooting of brass horns. They actually removed their clothes and waded into Bromide Spring, which had recently been enlarged and made several feet deeper.

Five buxom young women horrified the residents of the town by disrobing and wading out into the cold spring water, singing and praying all the while at the top of their voices.

Mayor Smith called upon the City Marshal, Thomas Irvin, but he soon found that additional police were needed to handle the unruly fanatics. The Mayor ordered every able-bodied man in the place to take charge of the crowd of religionists—and rid the community of them instanter. It took three hours to clear the springs of them, and within six hours the peaceful village at the foot of the Arbuckles was resting easily.

Wake Sleepers at Early Hours.

At daybreak this morning the citizens of Bromide were awakened by the beating of drums and loud singing. The Holy Rollers walked into Bromide from Wapanucka, a distance of six miles. They had evidently spent the entire night on the road. Word from Wapanucka states that a band of religious fanatics arrived there on the westbound Rock Island train, but no warning was given Bromide residents that these were headed in this direction.

WOMEN FIGHT IN SHOOTING GALLERY WHEN GOLDEN HAIR OF ONE IS CRITICISED

Peacemaker, Former Husband of Offended Blonde, Receives the Only Blow.

Aspersions cast upon the genuineness of the golden hair of Mrs. Bertha Knight of 2126 Olive street by Miss Pauline Allen of 2822 Locust street brought about complications which resulted in the arrest of both women on charges of disturbing the peace.

Mrs. Knight's attempt to slap Miss Allen, while defending her golden locks, caused her to be fined $5 by Judge Tracy in the City Hall Police Court Monday. Miss Allen was discharged.

The trouble occurred last Saturday night in front of a shooting gallery at 2013 Market street, where Miss Allen is employed. Robert Carleton, who conducts the place, was formerly Mrs. Knight's husband. Their 13-year-old boy, who lives with Mrs. Knight, had spent Saturday with his father.

When Mrs. Knight came for the boy in the evening, according to her testimony, Miss Allen remarked, "Here comes that bleached-out blonde."

Mrs. Knight advanced upon Miss Allen, who picked up a rifle, Mrs. Knight testified, and threatened to shoot her. Mrs. Knight knocked the gun aside and struck at Miss Allen. At that moment Carleton stepped between the women and received in the face the blow intended for Miss Allen. At that point policemen interfered.

Comptroller Player announced Monday that he would offer $5,500,000 of city bonds June 10 at 4 per cent. He expects, however, to receive such premiums that the net rate will be 3.75 per cent.

This will make $8,500,000 of the $11,200,000 bond issue authorized in June, 1906. The denomination of the bonds will be $1000.

$500,000 for Bridge Site.

Appendicitis' Death Grip!

Way to Avoid.

"Yes, I witness tragedies, misery, suffering and death almost daily, brought about solely by the carlessness of most people in neglecting constipation," says a well-known, motherly nurse-matron of one of our largest hospitals. She says: "Never permit yourself or any member of your family to be constipated twenty-four hours; for back of nearly all sickness, especially those most difficult to treat, such as appendicitis, typhoid, malaria, scarlet fever, diphtheria, smallpox, piles and womanly derangements, is neglected or improperly treated constipation. Let every intelligent family get the following prescription filled:

"Obtain of any leading druggist 'one ounce aromatic fluid Cascara,' 'one ounce compound essence Cardiol' and 'two ounces aromatic syrup Rhubarb.' Mix and adults take from one-half to one teaspoonful after each meal. Mild and honey-like, and children take readily five drops to a teaspoonful, according to age, after each meal. This may be used without any bad effects and with absolute certainty of cure. • • •

Whitens the Skin

The formula given below will be found wonderfully effective for whitening the skin, bleaching the cuticle and imparting that creamy softness which is so desirable.

Two ounces of Rose Water; one ounce Spirits of Cologne; four ounces Sartoin. Put the Sartoin in a pint of warm water, then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirits, and after dissolved and cooled, strain through a fine cloth. These ingredients are obtainable from any well-stocked druggist. Apply immediately after washing and to only a portion of the skin at a time, using the bare hands. Never use a cloth. After one part is thus treated, proceed to another. This should be done twice a day or oftener, and no other lotion, powder or cream need be used.

Beneficial results are usually apparent from the first few applications. • • •

KIDNAPERS KILL MAN WHEN WIFE REFUSES RANSOM

Body of John Peter Heins Found in a New York Park Reservoir.

MISSING SIX MONTHS

Captors' Threatening Letters Disregarded, on Advice of Police.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 4.—On the advice of police officials, Mrs. John Peter Heins disregarded letters from the kidnapers of her husband, threatening his death unless a large ransom were paid. The fulfillment of the threats was shown by the finding of Heins' body in the Central Park reservoir.

During the more than six months of her husband's absence Mrs. Heins spent the greater part of his fortune, estimated at $100,000, in an almost world-wide search for him. Since the finding of the body she has expressed willingness to spend the remainder in finding his murderers.

Heins disappeared Oct. 28 last. Three weeks later a letter was received by his wife saying that Heins had agreed to pay a certain sum to the writer and had met him in Central Park by appointment, but instead of paying had shown fight.

Held for a Ransom.

Heins was held captive, the writer said, and would be released if the money was paid. Otherwise, he would be killed.

On the advice of the police, the letter was disregarded.

An autopsy will be held to determine whether Heins was shot or beaten before being thrown into the reservoir.

The police are in possession of the letters received by Mrs. Heins, and believe they will succeed in finding the man who sent them.

Police Advised Inaction.

When the disappearance was first reported, and the subsequent letters received, the police discounted the idea that Heins had been kidnaped. They said the case was an ordinary disappearance, of which plotters were taking advantage to extort money.

Instruction, Mrs. Heins ignored them, and they ceased to write.

The inquiry for the missing man was conducted in and around this city, and at his former home in Germany, without casting the least light on the mystery.

TWO MEMBERS OF SCHOOL BOARD RETURN FROM EAST

Refuse to Say Whether They Found Satisfactory Man to Succeed Soldan.

George R. Lockwood and Robert Moore, members of the Board of Education, who went East on a quest for a new superintendent, have returned. Dr. Frank L. Magoon, President of the Board, will not return until Tuesday or Wednesday.

"We went East to find material for a new superintendent," said Mr. Lockwood to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "Mr. Moore and my elf went to Washington and New York and Dr. Magoon went to Boston. It would not be fair to say now whether we succeeded in finding a suitable man. The committee will meet, after Dr. Magoon's return, and prepare a report for the Board. We have decided not to discuss the matter until our report is made.

"The committee had no power to engage a superintendent. Our duty is simply to report to the entire Board what we found."

Mr. Lockwood said he knew nothing about the superintendency of the schools having been offered to Stratton D. Brooks, Superintendent of the Boston public schools. Press dispatches from Boston say Supt. Brooks says he will not come to St. Louis. The members of the Board who have returned to St. Louis say they do not know whether Dr. Magoon visited Supt. Brooks in Boston.

NAN PATTERSON HURT BY AUTO

Accident Follows Last Revel at Wildwood Inn.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

McKEESPORT, Pa., May 4.—Stories of a revel at Wildwood Inn, 15 miles from here, are coupled with the statement that Nan Patterson, the former actress, who was tried on a charge of killing Caesar Young, narrowly escaped a broken neck in an automobile accident and is in bed recovering from injuries.

Wildwood Inn has been much talked of in the last year through Nan Patterson and her friends. It was denied a license to sell liquor after April 30, and was sold for a home for incurable consumptives.

It is said there was one last revel Tuesday night. There were 40 automobiles of rich Pittsburg men on the lawn that evening, and the celebration lasted well into Wednesday, ending in the upsetting of the bar.

OTHER CITIES GETTING IN LINE FOR PROSPERITY

Officers of Association Started in St. Louis Receive Congratulation.

Business men all over the United States are complimenting St. Louis on the organization of the National Prosperity Association, whose purpose it is to restore confidence among financiers, merchants and wage-earners and to prevent unnecessary agitation against important corporate enterprises.

That a quiet presidential campaign is certain to facilitate a speedy commercial revival is the earnest belief of the Prosperity Association promoters.

More than 200 letters were received by E. C. Simmons, chairman of the Executive Board of the National Prosperity Association, Monday. All of them contained words of encouragement.

In Detroit, Sedalia, Kansas City and other commercial centers prosperity organizations are to be formed within the next 24 hours.

Organization on Train Suggested.

James E. Smith, president of the Business Men's League; Murray Carleton and E. C. Simmons forwarded the following telegram to H. B. Toppin, president of the Kansas City Commercial Club, whose members are now making a tour of Kansas:

"Can't you organize Prosperity Association of Kansas City on board train and give it out to newspapers? Ask your speakers at every stop to dwell on signs of better times. Give facts. Idea that we have got to suspend business because this is a campaign year is out of date. Will mail you full particulars in circulars and letters if you will wire us where they will catch you."

"The prosperity idea is taking hold everywhere," said Mr. Smith to a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Station Agents as Missionaries.

"We expect to enlist the active support of 400,000 traveling salesmen of the country. The active co-operation of 600,000 station agents will be obtained through the general managers of the railroad systems and each of them will be a missionary in the distribution of correct information about the crops and general business conditions.

Secretary Sanders of the Business Men's League is seeking by letters and telegrams to procure the co-operation of business organizations throughout the country.

Every financial, industrial and labor organization in St. Louis is expected to lend its aid to the Prosperity Association.

Whose Say-so Is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone and exclusively as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives.

Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to the above rule. Their claim to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their owner's and makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle-wrapper. The invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's medicines is the frank, confiding, open, honest statement of their full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of the afflicted will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of those medicines.

WHAT THEY CURE. People often ask "What do Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines—'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' cure?"

Briefly, the answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative, or blood-purifier, and tonic, or invigorator, and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon the lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large percentage of catarrh cases, whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous diarrhea). Even to the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is generally successful in effecting cures. In fact, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is without doubt the most successful constitutional remedy for all forms of catarrhal diseases known to modern medical science. In Chronic Nasal Catarrh Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid should be used for washing and cleansing out the nasal passages while taking the "Discovery" for its blood cleansing and specific, healing effects upon the mucous lining membranes. This combined local and general treatment will cure a very large percentage of the worst cases of chronic nasal catarrh, no matter of how many years' standing they may be.

As to the "Favorite Prescription," it is advised for the cure of one class of disease only—those ailments peculiar to women. It is a powerful, yet gently acting, invigorating tonic and nervine. For sick, worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, strong, vigorous condition of the whole system.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most of our obstinate and most fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this firm conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator and blood cleanser known to medical science. Not less marvelous in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of backache, headache, hot flashes and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines had failed.

Both those world-famed medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots, found in our American forests. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. What is said of their power to cure the several diseases for which they are advised may be easily learned by sending your name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a little booklet which he has compiled, containing copious extracts from numerous standard medical books, which are consulted as authorities by physicians of the several schools of practice for their guidance in prescribing. It is FREE TO ALL. A postal card request will bring it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce, over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. KILLED RIVAL, WOUNDED GIRL, IS ACQUITTED

Jury Decides Hinkle, Who Emulated Villain in Play, Was Insane.

MADE A CONFESSION

Young Woman Who Jilted Indian Was His Principal Accuser.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 4.—On the ground that he was insane when, emulating the villain in a play he had just witnessed, he shot and killed his rival, John R. McClintock, 23 years old, and wounded his former sweetheart, 19, a jury acquitted Harvey Hinkle, 23, after 48 hours' deliberation.

Hinkle had confessed the killing to the policemen who captured him in Poplar Bluff, Mo., last year, and insanity was his sole defense. The girl he wounded was the principal witness against him.

Miss Rogers had jilted Hinkle for McClintock. On the night of Aug. 8, 1907, Hinkle attended a play at Harris' Theater, in this city. McClintock and Miss Rogers were seated together, and Hinkle saw them when he entered.

The story told on the stage that night was almost an exact parallel to Hinkle's case. The villain, jilted, shot his rival and then the girl.

Hinkle seemed to be under an intense strain throughout the play. When the curtain fell, according to his confession, he hurried to Miss Rogers' home and lay down behind a fence to await his victims.

"It was awfully dark that night," he said. "But I could tell Miss Rogers from McClintock, because she was dressed in white. When they were within 12 feet of me I jumped up and fired the shot that killed McClintock. Miss Rogers screamed and ran. I don't know what made me shoot her. I suppose I was excited."

Hinkle fled to Poplar Bluff, Mo., where he was arrested.

EPISCOPALIAN RECTOR QUITS, EXPECTED TO BECOME CATHOLIC

Philadelphian and Assistants Object to Open Pulpit Plan—Followers in Sympathy.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 4.—The Rev. Dr. William McGarvey, rector of St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church, has resigned as a protest against the open pulpit canon of his church and his three assistants have gone with him. Although he positively refused to admit or deny the presumption that he and his assistants will join the Catholic Church, members of his congregation today declared that not only would the clergymen go over to the ancient church, but that a portion of the congregation likely would follow them.

When asked for the reasons for his resignation Dr. McGarvey referred to his position on the open pulpit question. He declined to discuss the matter for the present. His denunciation of the open pulpit occurred about the time of the meeting of New York of several prominent members of the Anglican faith, who decided to go over to the Catholic Church.

FRIENDS HELP

St. Paul Park Incident.

"After drinking coffee for breakfast I always felt languid and dull, having no ambition to get to my morning duties. Then in about an hour or so a weak, nervous derangement of the heart and stomach would come over me with such force I would frequently have to lie down.

At other times I had severe headaches; stomach finally became affected and digestion so impaired that I had serious chronic dyspepsia and constipation. A lady, for many years State President of the W. C. T. U., told me she had been greatly benefited by quitting coffee and using Postum Food Coffee; she was troubled for years with asthma. She said it was no cross to quit coffee when she found she could have as delicious an article as Postum.

"Another lady, who had been troubled with chronic dyspepsia for years, found immediate relief on ceasing coffee and beginning Postum twice a day. She was wholly cured. Still another friend told me that Postum Food Coffee was a Godsend to her, her heart trouble having been relieved after leaving off coffee and taking on Postum.

"So many such cases came to my notice that I concluded coffee was the cause of my trouble and I quit and took up Postum. I am more than pleased to say that my days of trouble have disappeared. I am well and happy." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

CHURCHES TO AID HUNGRY HOST IN THE TRI-CITIES

Meeting Plans Means of Supplying 1700 Unemployed With Food.

IMMIGRANTS HELPLESS

Strangers in Strange Land, They Cannot Eat Without Work.

At a meeting held Monday morning in the Niedringhaus Memorial Methodist Church in Madison, Ill., a committee of clergymen and missionaries was appointed to look after the needs of the 1700 foreigners, mostly Bulgarians and Macedonians, who are out of work and destitute in the tricities of Madison, Venice and Granite City.

The following committee has been appointed to aid the hungry men:

The Rev. C. C. Hall, pastor of the Niedringhaus Church; the Rev. E. Milton Page, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; T. S. Pagranoff, a Presbyterian missionary; P. S. Basileff and W. J. Lynch, missionaries.

The Bulgarian Government has appropriated $20,000 to assist destitute Bulgarians in this country. But there is no official representative of that Government in Madison County, Illinois, and, therefore, none of the money can be applied there.

The Bulgarians have appealed to President Roosevelt to appoint a Consul at once in one of the three cities, so a portion of this fund can be used there.

Ask Bulgarian Consul.

The committee of ministers and missionaries will go before the County Commissioners Monday afternoon in Belleville and ask aid from the county.

Gov. Deneen is taking a keen interest in the condition of the destitute foreigners, and is trying to get work for them elsewhere. He has obtained work for 50 of them with the Chicago Street Railway Co. The Burlington Railway has promised to give work to 100 more. Each man who is furnished with work through the efforts of the Governor has to send $1 a week back to assist his fellow-countrymen.

Gov. Deneen's representative on the ground is Frank Dixon, former Congressman and member of the Governor's staff.

At the meeting it was stated that the Ladies Aid Societies of the various Presbyterian Churches were caring for 500 of the destitute foreigners. The bakers and grocers of the Tri-Cities are caring for 1200 more of them.

Legislature May Aid Men.

The Legislature of Illinois will meet soon and then Gov. Deneen will ask it to appropriate enough money to care for the destitute foreigners. The Governor is allowed only $5000 a year for this purpose and it was exhausted long ago.

The American workmen of the tricities are well cared for. The great majority of them are at work.

WATCHMAN SUSPENDED WHEN HE SAYS HE WAS ROBBED

Lieut. Tierney Recommends to Chief Creecy That Dougherty's License Be Revoked.

Private Watchman William Dougherty was suspended from duty early Monday morning by Lieut. Tierney of the Twelfth District after the watchman had reported that he had been beaten and robbed.

Policemen Jaeck and Webb met Dougherty in front of 6118 Easton avenue. He told the officers he had been drinking in Cooney's saloon, 6122 Easton avenue, and after leaving there had been knocked down by a gang of ruffians and robbed of his hat, keys, star, purse and $9. The robbery occurred at 1 a. m., he said.

The officers thought Dougherty ought to be questioned by the Lieutenant and they sent him to the Twelfth District Station. Shortly afterward they found the watchman's hat and $2 in a lot near where he claimed he had been robbed. They also learned that Dougherty had been drinking with two men in Cooney's saloon shortly after 1 a. m., and had left with his two companions, who seemed to be good friends of his.

Lieut. Tierney recommended to Chief Creecy that Dougherty's license as a watchman be revoked. Dougherty's district lies between Euclid and Boyle avenue and Berlin avenue and Lennox place.

We Spent $32,400

To Give You Each a Can of Van Camp's

Three weeks ago—in this paper and others—we offered to buy you each a can of Van Camp's. That offer, in one day, cost $32,400. Do you know any other beans good enough to stand a test like that?

Again and again we told you that Van Camp's beans are best. And we told you why.

But the beans themselves, when we gave you a can, surprised you—did they not?

Aren't these beans delicious?

Do you wonder we took so much space in this paper, in an effort to get you to try them?

Perhaps the first thing you said was, "These are not like our home-baked beans."

It is true; they are not.

But it isn't your fault. It's your lack of facilities.

We bake in live steam, while you must use dry heat.

We can bake our beans until they are mealy, yet they are nutty because they are whole.

That can't be done in a home oven.

Your top beans are crisped; the balance are only half-baked. They are mushy because they are broken.

You have learned now how much better beans are when they are nutty, mealy and whole.

Then you noted, perhaps, our delicious blend.

That comes from baking the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together.

You noted, too, that our beans are not heavy. They don't ferment and form gas.

That's because we have made them digestible.

We bake them in ovens heated to 245 degrees. That's more than twice the heat that gets to the center of your baking dish.

That heat is essential. It separates the particles so the digestive juices can get to them.

Beans, to be digestible, must be factory cooked.

Please remember these differences.

Don't go back to home baking. Think of the fuel it takes, the time and the bother.

We have shown you how we bake beans, after 47 years of experience.

We have brought them to you, fresh and savory, just as they came from our ovens.

Each can in your pantry, when heated, means a delicious meal, ready cooked.

For all of the future, let us cook for you.

Van Camp's PORK AND BEANS BAKED WITH TOMATO SAUCE

If you think that other beans are as good as Van Camp's, please serve them with ours and see. Let your people decide. Then get the brand which they like best. We are willing to leave it to them.

There's a very wide difference between other brands and Van Camp's. And it isn't due alone to our process.

We pay $2.10 per bushel to get the right beans, though beans are sold as low as 30 cents.

But ours are Michigan beans—from a soil rich in nitrogen.

Ours are picked out by hand from the choicest part of the crop. We get only the whitest, the plumpest, the fullest-grown.

All beans of one size—you saw that.

We spend five times as much to make our tomato sauce as other sauce costs ready-made.

But much sauce is made from tomatoes picked green and ripened in shipment. Much is made of scraps from a canning factory.

Such sauce is not rich, not savory.

Ours is made from whole, ripe tomatoes, ripened on the vines. They are picked when the juice fairly sparkles.

That superlative zest which you found in Van Camp's is Nature's own flavor.

Beans are Nature's choicest food, when they are rightly baked. They are 23% nitrogenous—84% nutriment.

At a fraction of the cost, you get in good beans all the nutrition of meat.

They should be a daily dish, not an occasional.

They are delicious for breakfast, served in the form of croquettes with ham.

An ideal luncheon—a fine salad for dinner.

It pays to serve the best beans, for the best are cheap enough.

Your people will eat more of them, and the saving will show in your meat bills.

Beans are appetizing and hearty; all people like them. And they are easy to serve. These meals are always ready.

Those are some of the reasons why—for your own good—you should always insist on Van Camp's.

SERIOUSLY

We realize that to do a large business this summer it must be forced.

From a purely mercenary standpoint we find it wise to keep our factory going full force even though part of the product is disposed of at cost or less, otherwise the running expenses eat up more than the profit on a curtailed output.

We have chosen St. Louis as the point where we will sell this surplus at prices that will sell them.

Tuesday we offer, for example:

MAN FIGHTS SNAKES UNDER WATER; WATCHING CROWD THINKS IT PART OF PLAY

Attendant Releases Trained Reptiles Too Soon and Performer Is Near Death.

CINCINNATI, May 4.—William McNeil of Brooklyn, N. Y., a professional diver, had a narrow escape from death yesterday in a battle under water with a dozen big bull snakes and may die from the bursting of a blood vessel.

McNeil is showing at Chester Park, his exhibition consisting of a diving feat, accomplished with the aid of a weighted belt around his body and a mimic battle with snakes that are let into the water after he has released the belt.

A new attendant blundered and freed the snakes too soon. The weight of the reptiles and belt kept McNeil under water, although he struggled violently to rise.

The spectators looked on innocently, believing they were watching the ordinary performance, until a physician saw blood flowing from the man's mouth.

PRACTICAL JOKERS INTERRUPT JOURNEY OF NEWLYWEDS BY HAVING HUSBANDS ARRESTED

Following a Double Wedding Officers of the Law Make Six Raids.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Hotel arrivals: "At The Brevort, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Grotz and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McNicholas, Ottumwa, Io.

Deep sighs of relief escaped from the lips of these two brides and two bridegrooms, for they had traveled one of the roughest trails ever "hit" by any newlyweds following their double ceremony in Ottumwa.

At Fairfield, Io., the two men were dragged from the train to a Police court and fined $25 each for "elopement," a charge wired ahead by conspirators. Cash bail was refused and the bridegrooms were led to a cell and held four hours.

"After this "joke" had soaked in they were bailed out by plotters and allowed to proceed with their wives on an eastbound train, but not until they had been held at the station platform until the train bearing their brides had started. The bridegrooms caught it, but two hats and two umbrellas were left behind.

Before the party reached Chicago the four newlyweds were taken from five different trains and were driven five times in patrol wagons to police stations. Telegrams sent ahead brought police officials to the stations.

Grotz is manager of a wholesale grocery in Ottumwa. McNicholas is a traveling man of Chicago.

JOHN D. JR., ADDRESSING BIBLE CLASS, DEPLORES THE WICKEDNESS OF SOME RICH

It Is Right to Acquire Wealth Honestly, Young Rockefeller Says, but Sinful to Lie.

NEW YORK, May 4.—"Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength, but trusted in the abundance of his riches and strengthened himself in his wickedness."

Taking the fifty-second Psalm as his text, John D. Rockefeller Jr. addressed the young men's Bible class of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church yesterday for the first time in several months. He spoke at length on the accumulation of wealth and deplored the present day tendency to obtain power and riches by not always legitimate means.

"There is no sin," he said, "in accumulating wealth honestly and legitimately and using that wealth rightfully. But this man the Psalmist speaks of took the advantage of others. Not only was he given to fraudulent practices, but he lived evil.

"He loved lies. A man who tells lies puts upon himself the greatest possible burden. It is difficult to remember tomorrow the lie told today. With the power and influence he must have had this man was cruel and false at heart. I suppose that you and I are prone to envy him. We say, 'How splendid to have the power that man has.'

"If that is our frame of mind, let us look a little further."

Mr. Rockefeller then drew a picture of the need for men who make little money, but lead righteous lives; men who can always be trusted to do the right thing no matter what happens; men with whom one's wife and children would be happy."

BUYS RIGHT TO DIG GOLD, AGREES TO PAY $2 FOR $1

Negro Stakes Claim in Yard and He and Friends Wait for Spirits.

KEEP 12-HOUR VIGIL

Police Now Search for Man Who Sold Chart of Directions for $52.

A negro called at the home of Andrew Stempfle, 2714 Semple avenue, last Thursday and asked permission to dig in the back yard. He explained that he had been informed a treasure was hidden in the earth and that he had been given directions how to find it.

"If you give me $2 for every $1 you find I will let you dig," said Stempfle, jokingly.

To his great surprise, the negro agreed and went away. Friday, at 10 a. m., the negro, accompanied by another negro and two negresses visited the Stempfle home. They carried picks and shovels. Going direct to the back yard, the quartet began digging. They made three holes in different parts of the yard, each about three feet in diameter and two feet deep. At the bottom of each hole they built a small mound and on each mound they placed a gunny sack. After marching in single file around the holes several times, the negroes shouldered their picks and shovels and left the yard.

Four Negroes Return.

Stempfle returned from his place of business Friday evening and found the holes. He thought of reporting the matter to the police immediately, but decided to await developments.

At 11 a. m. Saturday the four negroes returned. They marched about the holes several times, muttered strange words and then sat down on the ground in silence. From his back window Stempfle watched them with interest. He waited two hours and then ventured out to the yard and questioned the negroes. They waived him aside, begging him not to break the spell by his presence.

"The spirits will be here most any minute and they mustn't see you," whispered the negro, who had negotiated with Stempfle for the digging of the yard.

According to Stempfle the negroes remained in their positions until 11 p. m. Saturday, and then silently departed. Not a word was spoken by either of them as they walked solemnly out of the yard. They took their sacks with them.

Negro Sold Chart for $52.

Sunday Stempfle called on the police. He gave a description of the negroes and an investigation was begun. The police found Louis Collins, living at 4026 Papin street, and Richard Larkins of 4028 Papin street.

They said they had given another negro $52 for a chart, which directed them where to find a hidden treasure. The negro himself could not get the treasure, as he had explained it to them, but he could sell the right to it and give the others the power to find it. They had followed his directions in detail, they said, and fully expected that spirits would fill their gunny sacks with gold.

The police are looking for the negro who got the $52.

FIREMEN CARRY WOMAN WHO WEIGHS 200 DOWN LADDER

Eight Others Rescued From Burning Building on Chouteau Avenue.

Nine persons were rescued from a burning building at 1326 Chouteau avenue early Sunday by firemen. It was a rooming house of three stories.

When the firemen reached it Mrs. Margaret Cleary, who weighs 200 pounds, was leaning out of the third-story window screaming. David Ebelmesser, fire captain, and Michael Mitchell, fireman, put up a ladder and carried her down.

The others who were carried out were: Mrs. Molly Jones and her 9-year-old daughter, Dora; George Jones and his daughter, Nellie; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dugan, Clara Dugan and Mrs. Cora Neimeyer.

They were asleep when the fire broke out and had not time to dress. Neighbors gave them shelter and clothed them.

Nemo WEEK

TRIPLE-STRIP

SELF-REDUCING

BEGINNING

MONDAY, MAY 4th

THIS year's "Nemo Week" is more than usually attractive, and there are two good reasons why retailers are anxious to co-operate with us to make this annual event a great success.

1. Nemo Corsets are not like ordinary corsets. Each is a patented specialty that does something — reduces the abdomen, strengthens the back, straightens the form, or brings health, comfort and style in some way quite its own. Nemos must be understood. To know Nemo Corsets is to wear them.

2. The phenomenal success of the Nemo has naturally brought forth many worthless imitations, which are so adroitly named and so skillfully misrepresented that any woman who doesn't happen to know, may easily be deceived. It is only right and fair to give all women every opportunity to guard themselves against such imposition.

MERCHANTS generally recognize these facts, and desire to protect their trade by exposing frauds. "Nemo Week" gives them an exceptional opportunity to explain to their trade the invaluable patented special features that have made Nemo Corsets famous throughout the world.

THE new Nemo models are of absorbing interest. Some of them are entirely new inventions, producing results heretofore thought impossible.

THE wonderful "Back-Resting," and the ingenious and lissome "Willow-Shape," should be studied carefully by women of slender and medium figure, while the stout woman will rejoice in the new "Flatning-Back" models in the "Self-Reducing" styles, whereby graceful Princesse effects may be attained even by fleshy women.

SELF-REDUCING, No. 312, for tall stout figures; and No. 320, same with Flatning-Back } $3.00
SELF-REDUCING, No. 314, for short stout figures; and No. 318, same with Flatning-Back }
SELF-REDUCING, No. 516, for tall stout figures; and No. 517, same with Flatning-Back } $5.00
SELF-REDUCING, No. 518, for short stout figures; and No. 515, with bust supporters ....
SWAN-SHAPE, Nos. 205, 206, 303 and 355—$2.00 to $3.50; MILITARY BELT, Nos. 301, 302 and 304, $3.00
BACK-RESTING CORSET, No. 351—$3.50; WILLOW-SHAPE CORSET, No. 500—$5.00

"Nemo Week" is an educational event, for it teaches women how to be shapely and stylish without transgressing the laws of health and hygiene. It demonstrates that, though the first great Nemo success was the famous "Self-Reducing" Corset, the new Nemo models for slender figures are superlatively chic and dainty as well as hygienic.

May Sale of White Waists

$2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 Values at $1.50
$4.00, $4.50 and $5.00 Values at $2.98

FOR this May Sale we have secured the greatest values it has been our good fortune to offer you, and the occasion surely demands your consideration.

PECULIAR as it may appear, we hadn't the slightest idea three weeks ago what values we would be able to offer during this 15th Semi-Annual Sale of White Waists. Everyone of the fourteen previous events was planned months ahead, but we were a little afraid to place orders some months ago because we could not do so to any advantage, and it was lucky that we did not, for we found

Max Roth, 22 West 19th St., New York, greatly overstocked and willing to sacrifice his stock on hand and that which was in process of manufacture. It was the opportunity we were seeking, and it was not long before the deal was consummated. That's how we are able to offer such exceptional values.

THESE Waists are made of fine quality sheer lawns and French batiste; in a great variety of trimming ideas; some open front style with long sleeves. Most of them, of course, come in open back style with ¾ sleeves, trimmed with combination of laces, galloons, medallions and motifs, of Baby Irish, Filet, French and German Val., Irish Point and Venise; many have medallions of real hand-embroidery; some have fronts of allover English eyelet of blind embroidery; very beautiful raised cushion and floral effects; others have allover lace yokes and combination of laces of Baby Irish and Filet; many of the yokes are trimmed with Val. lace between rows of beading; bodies elaborately inserted and frilled with Val. lace, finished with tucking. In short—

$1.50 $2.98

YOU will find practically no end of pretty modes, as simple or as elaborate as you desire them. You will be impressed with the workmanship, fit and finish of these garments. Each one is packed in a box, and the forty odd styles are arranged on as many different bargain tables, to facilitate choosing; $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00 values; grouped in two assortments—$1.50 and $2.98.

'THE TRAVELING SALESMAN' MUCH LIKE A WINDBAG

An Overdose of Melodrama Weakens James Forbes' Comedy at Century.

ROSS IS HANDICAPPED

He Has to Chew Scenery Instead of Being Slangily Funny, Alas!

HAVING written a good play of its kind in "The Chorus Lady," Mr. James Forbes has taken his pen —or typewriter—in hand and written a bad one in "The Traveling Salesman," which revealed itself at the Century last night.

Variety is the spice of life as a rule, but not the variety that swings the playwrighting pendulum from the high excellence of Patricia O'Brien to the dull mediocrity of Bob Blake. Young Mr. Thomas W. Ross, of "Checkers" fame does the best he can with Blake, but even this best of Ross can't overcome the handicap of the worst of Forbes. The principal represented on the road by "The Traveling Salesman" doesn't deliver the goods as per contract.

Good Lines in the Wrong Mouth.

Indeed, it's a curious fact that he comes nearer delivering the goods through Ted Watts, "a" traveling salesman, rather than through Bob Blake, "the" traveling salesman. This same Watts, nicely played by Mr. Arthur Shaw, son of Mary of the cult of Ibsen and Bernard Shaw, has by far the best of it in the matter of bright lines typical of the "drummer" character. And he makes the most of them, too—there are many moments when he's drawing rings all around Bob Blake.

This unhappy truth seems to be due to the fact that Mr. Forbes permits Bob Blake to become so enmeshed in the flashy melodrama and cheap sentiment woven into his story that the cheerful traveling salesman utterly disappears and only the conventional "hero" remains—and what's a mere "hero" of the conventional type as compared with the vital "drummer," of whom we were expectant? You can cut "heroes" of the stock theatric fabric by the yard, but a real living character such as is possible in the drawing of a faithful "drummer"—well, that would have had a pattern all of its own kind and peculiar to itself. Ted Watts indicates what could have been done with it.

Ross Lost in a "Ranting" Cyclone.

You don't fully realize how far Playwright Forbes has missed his opportunity until the story of "The Traveling Salesman" brings you to the "ranting" scene between Bob Blake, Franklyn Royce and Martin Drury in the third act. Here, alas and alack-a-day, poor young Mr. Ross is compelled to shout like a calliope and chew scenery with more avidity than a billy goat —and who on earth wants to see Thomas W. Ross in such a stunt? He's a "slang" comedian, not a melodramatic windjammer, and it's a shame to burden him with such tempestuous junk.

Also is it a shame that James Forbes, after so neatly utilizing the chorus-lady type, should have indolently permitted himself to fall with that of the traveling salesman, equally rich in possibilities of genuine humor and true comedy.

The story of the play is an effective one—it's all right for Bob Blake to be pretty Beth Elliott's patrimony after and to marry her at last, but the real Bob Blake wouldn't have gone about it so seriously. It would have been a picnic for him—and for the audience as well. The way things are shaped now, it's a hard night's work. It isn't Tom Ross' fault. He does his plamedest to make Bob Blake what a light-hearted, slangy, care-free young "drummer" should be, but the melodrama insisted upon by Playwright Forbes is too much for him. It isn't the supporting company's fault. They do everything they can with the material supplied. It's all Mr. James Forbes' fault. The man who wrote "The Chorus Lady" ought to be ashamed of having written "The Traveling Salesman."

Or, better still, he ought to rewrite it. There's the makings of a big success in it. All that is necessary is that Mr. Forbes shall maintain in his second play the pace which he so joyously set in his first.

MALTED BARLEY is digested food. Hops are a tonic —also an aid to sleep. That's what you get in beer. That's why the doctor says "drink beer" when one lacks vitality.

Beer quiets the nerves, not because of the alcohol. There is only 3½ per cent. of that. But because of the hops, for hops are soporific.

A bottle of Schlitz at bedtime induces sleep.

In every way the drinking of beer is good for you, providing the beer is pure. It is only the wrong beer that leads to bad after effects and to biliousness.

Schlitz beer is pure. We spend more on purity than on all other costs of our brewing. Even the air that cools it is filtered. And every bottle is sterilized.

ILLINOIS TOWN OF 300 WETTEST HENCE, RICHEST

Saloons and Breweries Pay $15,000 Into Benbow City's Treasury.

Benbow City, the flat town, which has grown up around the Standard Oil Co.'s new refinery, eight miles south of Alton, is the wettest town in Illinois, and, because it is the wettest, it is also the richest.

It began its corporate existence as a village Monday with eighteen registered voters and twenty-three saloons. If the proportions were the same in St. Louis there would be 125,000 saloons here.

Saloon for Each 13.

Within the corporate limits of Benbow City there are 300 persons and one saloon for each thirteen inhabitants.

In addition to the twenty-three saloons, there are seven brewery agencies and each dramshop and each agency pays $500 a year license. Payments for the coming year have already been made and the little village starts out in life with a $15,000 nest-egg.

The liquor interests have paid $50 for each man, woman and child in the village, the per capita wealth of which, by reason of this revenue from the liquor interests, is greater than that of any town or city in the United States.

Monday night the eighteen voters will meet to decide what shall be done with the money paid by the twenty-three saloons.

Enough for Improvements.

Mayor A. E. Benbow says there is a sufficient amount to make streets, lay sewers, furnish light, water and fire protection and build a village hall.

Mr. Benbow, who founded the village, is president of the board. Tom Alroyd is clerk and F. N. Stafford Police Magistrate.

Though it has twenty-three saloons, Benbow City thinks it can get along with two policemen, Robert Hare and John Brown.

State Should Aid Church Schools, Says Cardinal Gibbons; Talks on Labor

In Interview Published in Frankfort Paper He Condemns Boycott.

OPPOSES PROHIBITION

It Would Only Lead to Insincerity, He Says, Hence Is Morally Bad.

CARDINAL GIBBONS.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Frankfurter Zeitung of April 10 published an interview had by its correspondent with Cardinal Gibbons at his home in Baltimore.

"Is the impression correct," asked the interviewer, "that as a whole the people here are actually more religious than appears to be the case in most parts of Europe?"

"Yes, I believe that is true," replied the Cardinal. "Just because religion and politics are so much separated, therefore the American people gladly acknowledge themselves as a believing nation."

Religion Shows Decline.

"Does it appear to you that religion among the people is on the decrease?" was asked.

"I'm afraid that such is the case somewhat, outside of the Catholic Church," replied the Cardinal, "and the cause of it all appears partly to be the school system. It is hard to maintain our private church schools, because we must pay taxes for the others.

"I do not lay the blame at the door of the State school. They do what they can, and do good work in their own field. But teaching in religion is absolutely necessary. The State should also support our parish schools."

The coming election was spoken of.

"As a matter of fact," said the Cardinal to the correspondent, "all sides of the people are brought to light under such conditions, the good ones as well as the bad ones. All in all, such a shakeup of the nation is an excellent and healthy movement. If only the demagogues would not misuse the elections. But they demand promises from candidates which cannot be carried out, and often the candidates are forced to make such promises."

Labor Union Demands.

"Are you thinking about any person in particular?" asked the correspondent.

"Yes," replied the Cardinal. "For example, there is a part of the labor organizations. They are demanding today the legal right to use the boycott as a weapon. This is contrary to our principles of legal rights, and I regard it as absolutely wrong in every direction. Nor can I approve it when they induce people to go out on strike, when, as a matter of fact, these same people are not inclined to strike."

The Cardinal expressed himself in a like vein against the tradesmen who refused to work with nonunionists.

Upheld Labor at Rome.

"But," said he, "I am not opposed to the unions. On the contrary, you know that 20 years ago there came a suggestion from Rome that we here should condemn them, as they had been prohibited in some other countries. I went to Rome and succeeded, after great labor, in preventing such a condemnation.

"In Rome they at first said, 'Impossible. We cannot oppose them in Canada and indorse them in the United States.' But I convinced them the situations were entirely different. And why should we oppose such organizations, as long as no acts occur which are in opposition to the rules of our church? One has to suit himself to the situation."

"But," said the interviewer, "here in America the church is in no way connected with labor unions?"

"No," replied the Cardinal, "absolute independence is the only right way. It is the natural. It is also best for the church."

Clerical Rule Opposed.

The correspondent mentioned the Christian unions and Catholic organizations as they exist in Germany.

"The taste of the people here would oppose all such matters," replied the Cardinal. "They don't wish that the clergy should take part in such battles. The Knights of Columbus and similar benevolent organizations, it is true, also do social labors which are very praiseworthy, but they never mix in political or industrial quarrels."

Such principles, the correspondent remarked, explain in part the good will and peace that exists between labor and the church, which must make the deepest impression upon every European.

"Oh, certainly, certainly," said the Cardinal. "Because the head of neither side attempts to interfere in such matters. It is for that reason that there exists here practically no friction; certainly not in the past 50 years.

Tolerance Is Genuine.

"Of course, we seek to convert others (and the Catholic church is making good progress), but not by denouncing the faith of others, but only in preaching our own belief. The believers of the church would not tolerate to see others interfered with.

"The Presbyterian citizen engages in business with the Catholic, and is his friend. If his preacher would attempt to run down the Catholics or the Catholic church, he would rise in indignation and say: 'It is none of our preacher's business what the others believe.'"

A great impression is made upon the visitor, commented the correspondent, by the fact that he never hears church or religion mentioned in connection with politics. "This absolute separation between church and state—how does it show itself?" he asked.

"Oh," said the Cardinal, "these things get along splendidly. Yes, splendidly for both sides."

No Politics in Pulpit.

"There are no clericals in this country who participate in politics?" asked the interviewer.

"No," replied the Cardinal. "We would never tolerate it, should an attempt be made to preach politics from the pulpit. The pulpit it meant exclusively for religion, and not for politics. Religion and politics should always be kept strictly apart."

"Wouldn't the church permit a clergyman to participate in a political meeting and work as a politician, so long as the clergyman appears only in his capacity as a private citizen?" asked the correspondent.

"Only where it concerns questions of morality," answered the Cardinal. "But the clergyman must always make it absolutely clear that he does not speak as a politician, but only as a clerical. He must not appear in opposition to the entire program, but only to the simple issue which concerns his own individual domain.

Opposes Prohibition.

"For example, there are many Methodist and Baptist clerymen who appear openly in favor of prohibition, because they realize in it in the first place a moral question, and secondly a political one.

"In the same way I, for instance, take a stand against prohibition, and we have just now succeeded in defeating in the State of Maryland, an attack on the part of the Prohibition party. I am simply convinced that you cannot carry out prohibition in so large a place as Baltimore. It would only lead to insincerity. Therefore I attack prohibition on moral grounds."

120 DROWNED WHEN A FERRY BOAT UPSETS

Russians Returning From Church Become Panic-Stricken.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 4.—A ferry boat on the River Dneiper capsized yesterday near Bykhoff, in the Government of Mohileff, and 120 persons were drowned as a result.

The boat was filled with peasants and their wives and children returning from church. It was overcrowded and became unmanageable in midstream. The passengers became panic-stricken and overturned the boat by crowding to one side.

POLICE TO GET AUTO CHASERS

Commissioners Will Buy Two More Motocycles for Park Use.

The Board of Police Commissioners will buy two more motocycles for policemen in the parks and suburbs. They will be used for chasing automobilists exceeding the speed limit. This will make five motocycles that are in use for this purpose by the St. Louis police. A motocycle is more effective in running down automobiles than is a motor car.

POLICE THINK MRS. CALLFAS SOUGHT TO DIE

Poisoned Candy She Ate Not Sent to Her by Another, They Suggest.

The Omaha police are working on the theory, according to a news telegram Monday to the Post-Dispatch, that Dr. Jennie Callfas, formerly of St. Louis, ate poisoned candy there in an attempt at suicide. Mrs. Callfas is supreme physician of the Woodmen Circle, the women's auxiliary of the Woodmen of the World.

After eating the candy, Mrs. Callfas narrowly escaped death, but she is said to be recovering. Dr. W. F. Callfas, her husband, said she found the candy in a box on the porch of her home, with a card addressed by typewriter to her office, and ate some chocolates.

A neighbor said she saw a messenger boy leave a package on the porch, but the police search for this boy has been fruitless.

Dispatches from Omaha say an effort would have been made there Tuesday to displace Mrs. Callfas and elect a man in her place, but that Mrs. Emma B. Manchester, supreme guardian of the circle, denies rumors to that effect.

Mrs. Manchester is defendant in Mrs. Proudfit's $5000 suit for slander, the second trial of which is to begin here next October. The first trial before Judge Withrow resulted in a hung jury. Mrs. Proudfit chargees that Mrs. Manchester accused her of "doctoring" her books as treasurer of Olive Grove. Experts disagree as to whether there is any discrepancy in the books. At the first trial of the case Mrs. Callfas and William H. Hughes, Missouri organizer of the Woodmen of the World, testified in Mrs. Manchester's behalf. He is a member of the State Fish Commission and was Speaker of the House of Delegates in 1903.

Hughes has an office in the Wainwright Building. It was said there Monday that nothing had been heard from him.

"Is he in town?" was asked.

"Nobody knows where he is," was the reply of the man in charge of the office.

Hughees, who has been very friendly terms with her, supported Mrs. Callfas in her race for the office she now holds. The election took place last May, in St. Louis. Dr. and Mrs. Callfas moved to Omaha last June and now make their home there. They formerly lived at 3634A Botanical avenue.

THE CIVIC LEAGUE SOOTHES THE TRUST.

The mountains labored and groaned and brought forth a mouse. After ponderous exertions for a year to solve the problem of how to secure cheaper public lighting for St. Louis the Civic League produces a report that does no credit to that organization. It might be dismissed without remark but for the fact that the great failure of itself tends to mislead the public and gives it the impression that the case is hopeless.

The report leaves the case precisely where it stood before and makes no specific recommendation. It might have better been left unwritten. It negatively suggests, in terms which must delight the soul of the Big Cinch and the Light Trust, that a municipal plant for city lighting would be inadvisable, and that "a resort to competition, while it might assist in reducing exorbitant rates temporarily, is only a makeshift, and that permanently satisfactory results and a minimum cost for lighting cannot be secured by competition." John I. Beggs might have written that.

The public was perfectly aware that the public utilities law theoretically offered relief—the Legislature suggested that; and that is the only positive recommendation the Civic League offers. With this soothing generality we are dismissed—a solution that leaves us precisely where we were, except that the Light Trust has been comforted by the negative recommendations.

SMART DEMOCRATS IN ILLINOIS.

When a large and influential section of the Republican party in Illinois successfully resisted the enactment of a workable direct primary law for several years, it evidently knew what it was doing. The Democrats who urged the law know their business also.

Govs. Deneen and Yates have been on the stump for about one month now and there has been no such use of the language in that State within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. This is no slapstick performance, either. Deneen hands Yates the real thing and Yates responds with the genuine article. If Democrats and Republicans in their past contentions had used the vocabulary of these Republican brethren the political fabric of the State would have been shaken to its foundations. Something may come of it.

The Democrats of Illinois are about 150,000 short of a majority, but if they can split the Republicans with their nice new primary law they may be able to get into power with a plurality.

STONE PUTTING OFF THE EVIL DAY.

Bonanza Bill, it is announced, will open his Missouri campaign in some small town, not yet decided upon, at a date not yet selected, but some time along in June, maybe about the 10th.

We congratulate the statesman on his prudent indecision, as well as on his procrastination. Everybody will appreciate Gumshoe's reluctance to enter upon this campaign against a man with a long record of good things done and a promising platform besides. No wonder the apostle of him puts off the evil day. Next to no campaign at all by him, the shortest possible campaign will be the most agreeable thing for him as well as for the people.

Though he would require a great many months of continuous speaking if he were to undertake to explain some things in his record, it will not take him long to lay before the people his record of good things done.

If, on reflection, he should put off running altogether most voters in Missouri would regard his prudence as the better part of valor.

SELF-HELP AS AGAINST MONOPOLY.

The consumer who says that the installation of small electric plants is the only way to defeat the operations of the Light Trust takes a narrow view of the situation, but it is an important view.

Comparatively few people use enough electricity to make such an investment worth while. On many blocks in the city, however, there are enough consumers to make it an object for some one of them to enter upon the work of manufacturing the current co-operatively for the use of himself and others.

Experience has shown that enterprise of this kind is quickly rewarded by a decrease in rates. The trust does not relish competition of any kind. Thus relief, in spots, from the exactions of the monopoly can be had by setting up or threatening to set up small generating plants, but the wider problem plainly enough is not touched at all.

The one sure remedy for the oppressions of an awful and extortionate trust is to be found in the courts. The St. Louis light monopoly will not survive one lonestly conducted assault in that quarter.

In connection with bank clearings and commercial reports the spitting statistics, showing that a person in St. Louis have lately paid fines of $1, are conclusive of returned confidence and prosperity.

Several sections of spine have been successfully received from a patient at the City Hospital. In person surgery may be able to put backbone into some of our talkative trust busters.

Roosevelt never said that he would not accept a Democratic nomination for the presidency.

SHALL PANIC-BREEDING CONTINUE?

The business men of St. Louis who have organized for the promotion of prosperity say that there is no politics in the movement. If that be strictly true not much will result from the enterprise. Every man in active business is already promoting prosperity to the best of his ability and an organization for that purpose can have no influence except as it has an object over and above the manufacture and distribution of commodities.

Sagacious men do not co-operate against pessimism as such, but against the things which provoke pessimism. They know that it is not enough to say "Let us be prosperous." They do not base their hopes upon proclamations. The St. Louis propaganda would not have been undertaken if it had not had a specific and well-defined purpose. What is it?

There is a deep-seated conviction among business men that the country is suffering today from violent speech and violent action on the part of politicians. They do not question the existence of great wrongs in our financial and commercial life and they do not criticise those who have assailed these things directly, but they do object to the demagogy which arrays class against class and which seeks in the states and in the nation to gain power or to hold power by a radicalism which menaces the very life not only of industry and credit, but of republican institutions also.

Here and there some great rogues have been uncovered. In one place and another astounding abuses have been exposed. In certain lines these wrongs have been far-reaching. It has been necessary to use the rod of legislation upon some interests which were found to be reckless of popular rights. But that American business, industrial and social activities are in need of continuous excoriation; that confidence in everybody and everything must be undermined, and that, to further the ends of our agitators, we must make open confession that we are a nation of scoundrels will not be admitted.

To attack and destroy a specific injustice or with well-prepared facts and figures to bring about a needed reform is in every way commendable. There will always be need of honest effort in that direction. To make sweeping and unsupported charges against everybody who is at all conspicuous for ability or enterprise; to array without cause class against class, and to suggest suspicions and animosities which should have no existence is another matter.

There need be no cessation in the pursuit of great offenders. Punishment of crime does not destroy confidence; it strengthens it. There need be no apathy in the presence of known evils, for the security of the just rests upon no such false foundation. What is needed more than anything else in this country now is less sensational politics, less declamation, less defamation, less agitation and more and more orderly enforcement of law and more and more devotion to justice.

Partisanship need not enter into the work of the National Prosperity Association, but if that organization does not address itself to politicians, high and low, to demagogues and to agitators—the real panic breeders—it will labor in vain.

REMEMBER THE FATE OF JERICHO.

The American Federation of Musicians is about to meet in this city. People who may think this is a trifling matter had better be warned of its momentousness. The American Federation of Musicians represents 52,060 able-bodied, lusty-lunged musicians, and a whole host of them will bring their instruments along.

Among other things, a band of merely 500 will parade from the Jefferson Hotel north to Washington avenue, west to Twentieth street, South to Locust, west to Leonard, south to Lindell, west to Grand, south to Pine, and so on. They will play every step of the way and if we are not moved with concord of sweet sounds clear off our foundations we shall miss our guess. Music we recall has power to soften rocks and bend a knotted oak, and it once knocked down the walls of a great city. Trees were torn up by the roots in Orpheus' time.

All things considered, it might be wise to take the precaution of reinforcing the foundations and bracing the walls along the line of march.

CORTELYOU AS A LECTURER.

There must be a dearth of novelties on the lecture platform when Secretary Cortelyou is in demand for dissertations on the ethics of good journalism.

The texts selected by him are such as "Some Phases of Business" and "Responsibility in Public Station," but his subject matter is his grievances against the newspapers and his highly valuable opinions as to the manner in which they should be conducted.

Considering the fact that Mr. Cortelyou resigned from an official position in Washington in order, with the assistance of Mr. Harriman, to carry on the Republican presidential campaign of 1904 and was soon thereafter rewarded with a Cabinet appointment, being afterwards advanced to the Treasury—a position far beyond his merits—it would seem that he has no good reason to complain of anybody or anything.

If the press had been as honest, fearless and powerful as it should have been, Mr. Cortelyou's public life would have ended a good while ago. It may be added that Mr. Cortelyou's criticisms are not based upon these shortcomings.

The brethren from Tulsa, Ok., who have been making a tour of the East, must have fallen under the influence of plutocracy, for on their return they proclaim themselves as unanimously opposed to "corporation baiting." If Wall street had treated the boys right it might have had an indorsement also.

A member of Congress from New York defends the use of the secret service to secure evidence in army and navy divorce cases. We have not been Russianized as yet, but we are on the way.

One reason why Admiral Dewey can never be President is to be found in the fact that he did not sail away from Manila after he had finished his business there.

Mr. Cowherd's Business Men's Club is likely to be searched for big cinchers and old gangsters. If none can be found, so much the better for Mr. Cowherd.

St. Louis Democrats are talking wisely of Attorney-General Hadley's handicaps. He has no old gang on his back, anyway.

The frost in Arkansas Friday was nothing to the low temperature that Jeff Davis precipitated in the United States Senate.

Miscegenation dinners in New York make every step upward harder for the negroes of the South.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

A Grave Mistake.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read your editorial relative to Prof. Soldan's successor. I am sure I am voicing the sentiments of many of our citizens who are interested in the public schools, when I say that it would be a grave mistake to go outside of the city for a successor to Prof. Soldan, when we have such a man as the acting superintendent, Mr. Ben Blewitt.

ROBERT RUTLEDGE.

The Unsought.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am what is called a very sensible girl, good looking, and a neat dresser, but have almost given up hope of meeting any respectable young man. I do not attend many places of amusement, and when I do go to church affairs, the men seem to be well supplied. So what is a girl my position to do? I am too backward to join the "Lonelies" and am more lonely than the most of them. TOO SENSIBLE.

Scorn for St. Louis Material.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It seems to me its an outrage and a shame for the Board of Education to take $1000 of the people's money and give it to three men to take a trip. That $1000 belongs to the people of St. Louis, and not one taxpayer out of 500 was in favor of giving it away. If Messrs. Magoon, Lockwood and Moore want a trip East, let them pay for it. We want a St. Louis man to succeed Prof. Soldan. There are plenty of good men, willing to take the position, but can't get it—men just as good, if not better than New York, Chicago or Boston produces. What's the matter with John Collins, Ben Blewett or Mr. Bryan? Haven't they been good, faithful servants and served the public well for years? Don't you think their efforts ought to be appreciated?

TAXPAYER.

Office Boy Wages.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Having a mother to support and also myself, and only 15 years old, I wish someone would start up an office boys' union and see that the boys get paid for what they do. Some merchants in St. Louis think because it's a boy he don't need any money. They think his mother and father have money and he is already through school. But I know many a boy (almost all that are working downtown), and not one of them has both mother and father, and those having only mothers living have been taken out of school before they were half through. And the same way with the errand boy. Now, I don't think it's fair. Some men get kids to work from 7 till 6 for $3 a week; 10 cents carfare for a week, 60c, leaving $2.40. Now, what is $2.40? That might pay the room rent and it might not; but if it does, where are they going to get their meals? And they have to wear some fair clothes and look nice or they can't keep their job. Now, will some kind person start a union. An appeal from A POOR OFFIGEBOY.

The Barge Line.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

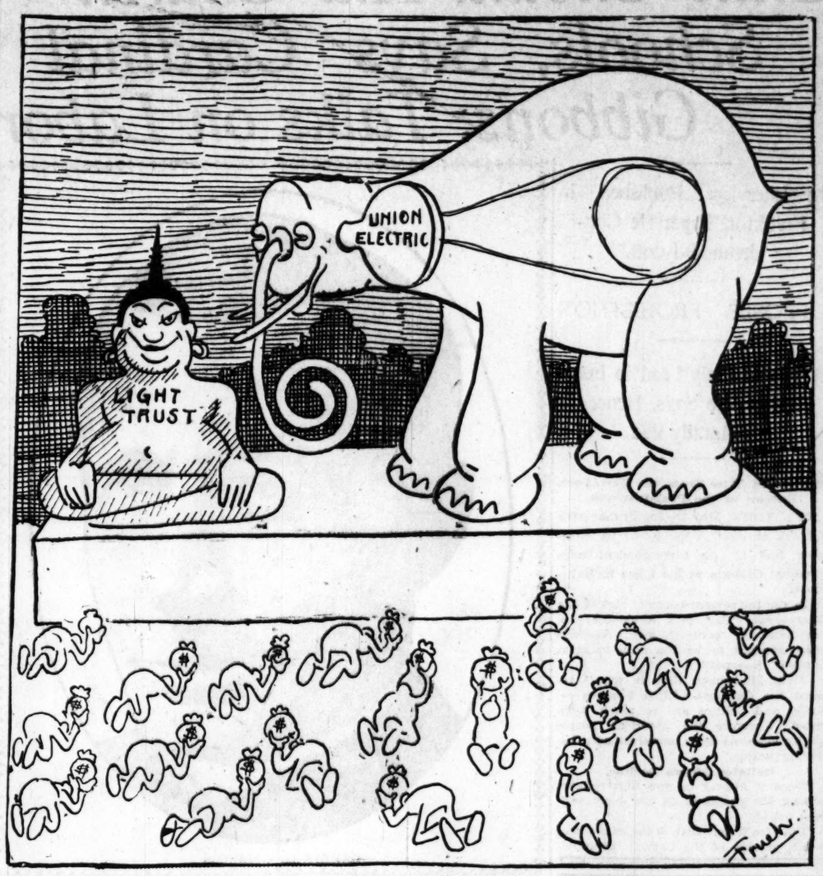

The apparent revival of interest in navigating the river from here to New Orleans by barges should be a stimulus to moneyed men who have their own and the city's welfare at heart. Let the barge line be built. If it is properly and honestly managed it will pay large dividends. The old Mississippi Valley Transportation Co., the former barge line, made several St. Louis men millionaires. It paid a dividend of 40 per cent for many years and would have continued in business if the men who held most of its stock had been more enterprising and adapted more modern methods for new conditions. What St. Louis needs, is not only a good barge line, but a means of direct, all-water transportation to and from the gulf ports of Mexico, the West Indies and South America. There is ample water depth in the river from St. Louis to the gulf during two-thirds of the year to float a sea-going vessel of 3000 tons or more and from Cairo to the sea vessels of even larger tonnage could be used if such vessels were properly built and provided with the improvements that I am ready to supply. If St. Louis capitalists really wish to make the city a port of entry to which sea-going vessels may arrive, and the city a seaport for practical purposes, I believe in the possibility of convincing the most skeptical that the plan I advocate is eminently practical in an engineering sense and decidedly so in the point of economy. JOHN F. CAHILL, 1425 Clara Avenue.

The Strugglers' Union.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Someone once remarked that "In union there is strength," which causes me to believe it wouldn't be a bad idea to get together (in spirit only) that great body of financially depressed and title the organization "The Strugglers' Union." I mean the fellows that are broke, almost down and out, yet hustle hopefully along, and would never be suspected by the ordinary passerby to be without anything in their pockets but carfare and a bunch of keys. I mean good, square fellows who just seem unable to squeeze into a comfortable existence. Fellows who dread to open all of their mail and yet hail you cheerfully when their very hearts are rent with continuous disappointment. No wonder that it is a puzzle to make out how they manage to get along. Wouldn't it be odd if it were agreed there should be no meeting place, and the only dues or obligations for membership to be just sympathetic recognition and a kind word to some poor devil who might for all we know be fighting 'twixt pride and actual hunger. And supposing the badge or emblem should be a white button worn in the lapel of one's coat. Gee, wouldn't there be white buttons "going some" along our principal thoroughfares! I saw a man on the corner today whom I know to have had as high as $50,000 to his credit in bank once. He looked all right and we were confidential enough to compare notes. "Well," said I, "I've just got my carfare home. What do you think of that?" He actually smiled (a little sickly, though), and answered: "I haven't got mine yet, and I'm chasing around to meet some friend who is better fixed than you are." PLAIN JOHN SMITH.

LEMON SQUEEZERS.

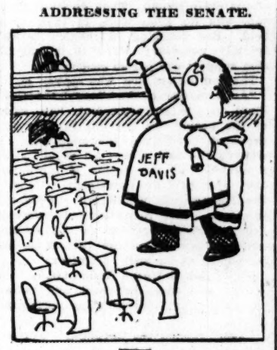

From Success.

We all know people whose particular occupation seems to be to squeeze the sour out of everything. They never see anything sweet. Everything is bitter to them.

They cannot enjoy a friend because of his faults. His mistakes and weaknesses loom up so large that they cannot appreciate the good in him. They cannot see the man God intended, perfect and immortal; they see only the deformed, diseased, crippled, handicapped man who, in their opinion, will never come to any good.

Nor do they see the world that God made. The beauty that looks out of the landscape, from the trees that rustle in the wind, that is wrapped in the flower, is lost to them. They only see the floods, the fire, the earthquakes, the lightnings, the wrecks which destroy. They are blind to beauty. It is all covered up in the ugly, the forbidding. They do not hear the infinite harmonies that entrance the ear that is in tune with the infinite. This is all lost to them in the discord of their thoughts.

ADDRESSING THE SENATE.

SALOONS AND SEGREGATION.

No one has seriously proposed segregation as the solution of the saloon question. We all know drinkers who are not bad fellows, and the thought of putting them off on a reservation, like Indians, has always been rejected.

But these good Indians, so to speak, seem to have hit upon the idea themselves. At least, we gather as much from what is happening over at Benbow City, Ill.

Benbow City is the newest town in a State largely won by prohibition. Evidently concluding that all the other towns are eventually to go dry, the drinkers have flocked to Benbow City, their obvious intention being to make this a town for boozers only. With a population of less than 2500, the town has 23 saloons.

The experiment will be watched with much interest. If it succeeds, we can establish large reservations for good Indians, and there leave them to themselves, their liquor and their personal liberty, a menace to no one. Drinking is largely dying out. Perhaps the reservations need not be as large as now seems likely.

The growth of Benbow City will tell. When it may be said to have reached its full stature, it will probably include the entire drinking population of Illinois. This may not be more than five or ten thousand. At any rate, it will serve to show the other states how much of a reservation to lay out.

A St. Louis minister says he knows a man who can afford a $7000 automobile, but gives only 25 cents a week to the church. Perhaps if the reverend gentleman had to keep up a $7000 automobile, he would wonder how the other fellow could give even 25 cents.

THEN AND NOW.

On May Day in the olden days,
Men chucked their work, and selling goods,
And went to stroll in pleasant ways
Off somewhere in the greening woods.

It was supposed a day of mirth,
Together with some fresh grass stain
Rubbed in their jeans by Mother Earth,
Would make their old hearts young again.

And even kings were wont to be
On May Day in the nearest wood,
Engaged at play and archery
With merry men like Robin Hood.

For May Day, with its leafing fronds,
Its flowers, and its sunshine bright,
Was, too, a day when vagabonds
And even kings were equals quite.

But how the fickle times have changed
From those romantic days to these,
And from what joy are we estranged
By money madness, if you please!

The woods are quite unknown to men—
And no one now is clipping fronds;
The king is in his counting den,
And clipping coupons off of bonds.

And what things bloom, and what buds start,
No man among us cares a groat,
Nor hungers to renew his heart,
But rather would renew his note.

What human, normal times were those—
How artificial these.
When May Day like the others goes!
O, tempora! O, mores!

Kleptomania Cure.

"When Justice Brewer," said a Kansas lawyer, "was on the Leavenworth circuit as a criminal judge, he had no patience with the pleas of hypnotism and such-like new-fangled notions that then were coming to the fore.

"Once I remember, a man was being tried before him for shoplifting.

"A witness said he thought the prisoner had kleptomania.

"'I presume, Judge,' he added, 'you know what kleptomania is, eh?'

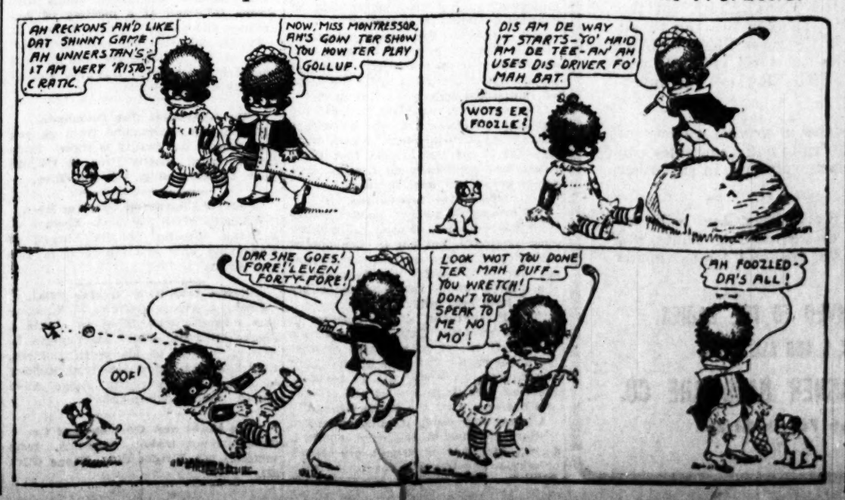

"'Yes,' said the Judge, 'I do. It is a disease that I am sent here to cure.'"—Washington Star.

INQUIRER.—The Bible has been translated into 400 languages. Two men spent 26 years learning the Tahitian language, and 20 more translating the Bible into it. The issues of the American Bible Society for the year ending March 31, 1907, were 1,910,853 copies, and for the 91 years of the existence of the Society, 80,420,382 copies. This includes Bibles in many foreign tongues, and the language of several American Indian tribes. (The British and Foreign Bible Society, established in 1804, has distributed to March 31, 1907, 203,931,788 copies.)

H.—O'Brien potatoes: Fry together a few slices of onion with a little chopped red and green peppers and mix with freshly mashed potatoes. Use only enough of the other ingredients to properly flavor the potatoes. Serve hot. Another recipe: Wash, stem and seed three sweet green peppers and simmer until tender in a little water; boil fine, sound potatoes whole, then remove the peel and cut up; butter a baking dish and put a layer of the potatoes, one of grated cheese and one of the cut-up pepper pulp, alternating until the dish is full, the top being cheese, dotted with butter. Add a little boiling milk and bake a nice brown; of course salt, pepper to taste while cooking, but very little pepper will be needed.

RUTH.—One authority says: Sprinkle dark furs well with black pepper, wrap up in brown paper, and put away in hat-box, and you can keep for years with no fear of injury from moths. To keep white furs, use white pepper, and when time to use again, hang out and shake out well. Another says: Putting away furs with moth balls, pepper, camphor, etc., is only a snare and a delusion. Furs must be made air-tight and remain closed or be aired in the sun every week. The city furriers follow the latter plan when they store furs, or a few use the cold storage and freeze out any fear of trouble through moths. Another: When packing away either summer or winter articles place them in a dry goods box that is lined throughout with tar paper and place the box where no light can filter in.

G. W. B.—Unlike the Japanese, the Chinese are meat eaters, but we do not believe they eat rats. Pork is eaten more than any other meat. The number of pigs raised is enormous. If rats are eaten there, this story cannot be true: A Chinaman, wearing his finest gown of silk, called at a house where he happened to disturb a rat which was regaling itself over a jar of oil standing on a beam over the door. In the flight the rat upset the oil upon the visitor, ruining his fine raiment. When the host appeared the visitor suppressed his rage and said: "As I was entering your honorable dwelling, I frightened your honorable rat, and while it was trying to escape it upset your honorable jar of oil over my poor and insignificant clothing. This explains the contemptible condition in which I find myself in your honorable presence."

THE FOLLY OF FORTUNE TELLING.

Girls Waste Their Money to Have Shrewd Women Guess or Tell What They Have Told. Written for the Post-Dispatch.

BY GERTRUDE BARNUM.

ADA was the center of an interested group of girls in the outer "parlor" of a "Hindoo" fortune teller.

"I never got a better half dollar's worth than what I got from him," she was saying as the next girl went behind the mysterious curtain into the inner sanctum, and the rest asked questions with bated breath.

"What else did he tell you?"

"All about the trouble I had with Stella. He didn't give her name, exactly, but it was her he meant, all right—dark-haired, medium height and—and all; and he told about my being afraid of being fired from the shop—at least, he said I was in trouble—but it would come out fine, and I needn't worry about anything, because my star was lucky. I'm going to meet a tall, fair man, rich and aristocratic, and I don't need to be afraid of anything, because he says I'm going to find in him a protector that'll balk all the plots of my enemies."

"I'll bet he means that fellow that caught you when you fell off the car."

"That's him," said Ada, with conviction.

"Who did he say was your enemies?"

"The worst is one I trust now; but I must beware, for she is against me, behind my back."

"Do you know who it is?"

"Sure! I got an idea. Anyway, she will only bring trouble on herself, and I am going to travel, and live happy and prosperous with my husband." Ada went on to state that on the strength of her advices, she would proceed to cast aside her closest friend, now under suspicion, and give up her "job" without waiting to be "fired."

At this juncture my friend Edna spoke up:

"If you ain't a gilly!" she exclaimed. "I thought we only came here for a lark! I could be just as good a faker as this one myself. All I need is a little shoe polish for my hands and face, a dish towel around my head and a dark room. If you go back on a friend for any song-and-dance like that, or get through, at your shop before you've even touched, I can tell your fortune easy. The tall, fair man you'll meet 'll be in the asylum, and the only wealth and prosperity you'll see 'll be in your mind's eye. Now, right here, I'm going to foretell exactly what I'm to do next, and that is, get out of this dark, smelly hole and seek health and happiness where there's more light and fresh air."

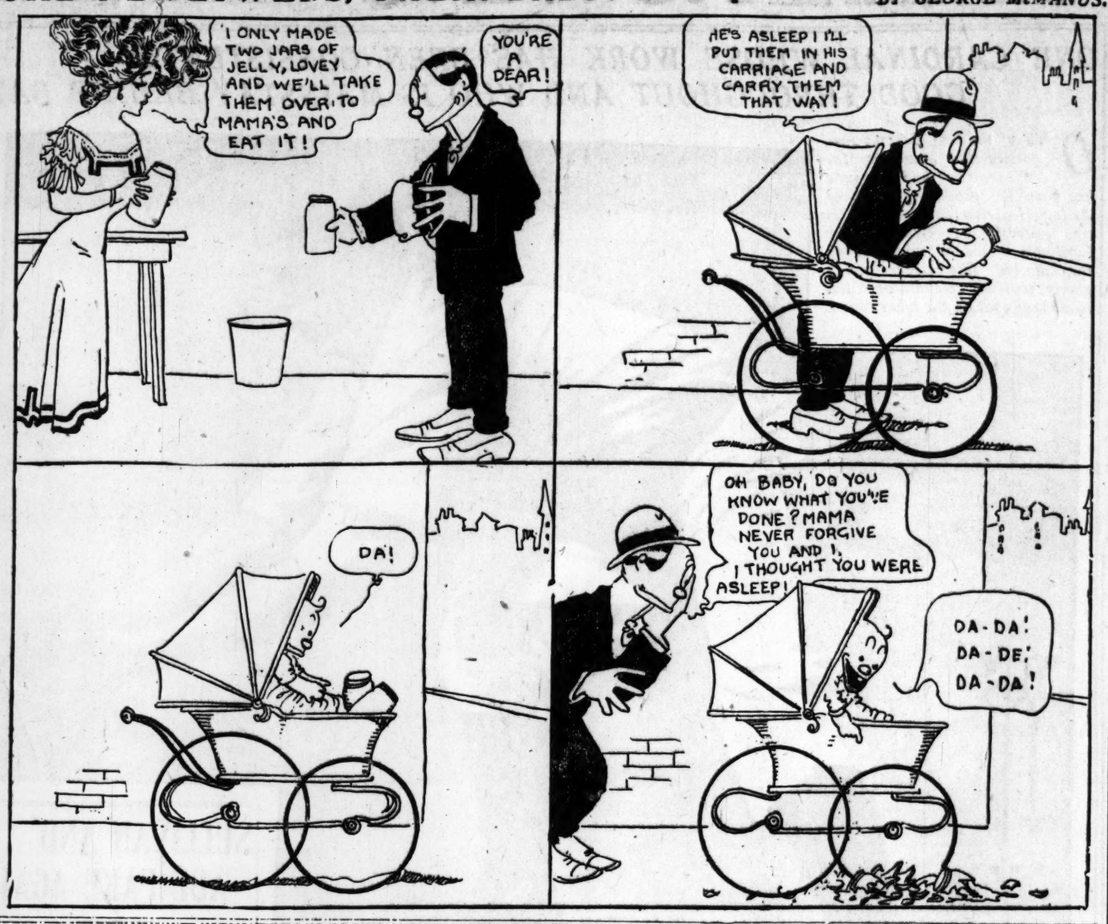

As some of us followed her out, she elaborated her ideas about "fortune tellers."

"The only true thing they can tell you about the future," she said, "is that they're going to get your 50-cent piece. As long as girls just wait for luck to drop on 'em and fix up their future for em' they'll be easy marks for the Hokey Pokey man. No one living can be sure prosperity's coming to a girl like us; but she can give the best guess about herself. She can't read the answer in the stars, neither. She's got to stick right to earth, and figure it out close on her slate—put down one and carry one—the one she's got to carry is herself, too. She may not meet her tall, fair protector in a thousand years, and if she does, most likely she'll have to support him and the baby. What I say is: Come out of your razzle-dazzle and look at facts. Look at the girls we know that met up with their fates. Are they traveling much? Only as far as the baby by way of the coalbin, the sink and cook stove and the washtub. They got to spend their fortune teller money on croup medicine. The best of us have a right to look at them; that's the nearest we'll get to reading our futures. We ain't a bit different. Lots of girls will give a half day's pay to a picture postal card Hindoo to talk about wealth and prosperity, and won't pay a cent for a trade union or a society that might fetch them a few sure enough protectors in sick benefits or labor laws. I sure do throw a hate on such fool girls! They make me tired! They get hit hard, but they only get what's coming to them, as long as they don't look where they're going."

It was evident that the spiders of superstition had spun no webs in Edna's brain, but, alas, hers is an exceptional feminine mind. The credulity of girls is not half suspected by the laity, though it is freely exploited by an unscrupulous fraternity of "fakirs." We all know girls who will not risk 13 at table, who painstakingly walk on a certain side of a tree or post, who "knock on wood," who throw salt over their shoulders and wear their petticoats wrong side out for luck. But few of us know how well fumbled and worn are the books of palmistry, sorcery and "black art" in the public libraries, nor how much mumbojumbo and fee-fo-fum the fair sex accept from the lips of so-called clairvoyants, mesmerists and spiritualists. If the public were fully aware of the harm done by such imposters, they might be moved to return to the once popular pastime of "witch" burning. Many a girl in despair betrays her secrets to a "medium," only to realize too late that she has put herself completely in his power. Many a girl is ruined financially and morally through the arts of vicious necromancers.

THERE IS A BOARDERS' ETIQUETTE.

Observance of Its Rules Makes the Lot of Paying Guests Much More Endurable, According to This Writer.

BY ROSANNA SCHUYLER.

If those who board would observe the special "boarding house etiquette," many disagreements would be avoided and good will would prevail among the residents. Civility and toleration might be called the fundamentals of these rules, but without the inflexible resolve to attend strictly to one's own affairs, these unwritten laws will not be effective.

Under no conditions of life is it ever more difficult to be uniformly polite than in a boarding house, for persons of such opposite tastes and training, even of different classes, are brought in the very closest contact. No boarder seems to feel the slightest responsibility of the manners of another, and sometimes pays little heed to their feelings. It is at this point that etiquette, stepping in, can do much to harmonize conflicting elements.

To say "Good morning," "Good afternoon" and "Good evening" when meeting at the table or in the halls is imperative. There is no doubt that this should be done first by the older boarders to the newcomers, even though the latter may not have been introduced. It is merely a question of time when all will meet, and such trivial politeness never harms any one.

It is in the dining room that characteristics of the boarders are most felt, and the greatest test comes of good breeding and kindliness. To comment upon the quality of the food while at the table cannot be justified from any point of view. If it falls below the standard the boarder had reason to expect, the dissatisfied person should wait until after the meal, when she can see the housekeeper alone. Under such conditions any reasonable criticism may be made, none the less emphatically because it is done with politeness.

If the boarder will bear in mind that one cannot live in a boarding house with the same degree of luxury that is to be had in an expensive hotel, and that the housekeeper's intentions may be of the best, the trouble being only with her income, it may help to moderate comments. The head of the house is distinctly conducting a business to make what profit she can, and to think that she will spend all she receives upon living for her boarders is unreasonable. She must, of course, conform to a certain quantity, but if the boarder finds herself constantly criticising, she would better stop trying to live in that house and go to one that is more desirable.

Commenting on one's fellow boarders, especially in the dining-room, during their absence can only be called the height of ill-breeding. It is not necessary that all shall like one another, and it would not be human to constantly repress all opinions. Those who are critical should express their views in their own rooms, and even then it is better not to gossip. There is always some individual who repeats what was said, and unpleasantness involving the whole household sometimes results.

A woman of instinctive refinement will refuse to be drawn into general discussion of any unkind nature. By refusing tactfully to take any sides she keeps herself free of trouble. It is wholly possible for her to say, if appealed to, that she does not know, or has never thought of the matter, or had not noticed it. She need not be forbidding in manner while so speaking, but she shows good breeding obviously lacking in others.

The woman who keeps the house should have all the consideration and politeness shown to her that comes in one's way naturally. At best her path is not one of roses. To tell her a thing is good, when one can honestly, will offset a criticism another time, and such little things help keep alive the spirit of kindness.

SUNDAY IN OLD VIRGINIA.

THE family life was so religious in the week that it was necessary to have Sunday quite completely given up to devotion to distinguish it, says Thomas Wilson Page in "The Old Dominion." Family prayers—with a hymn sung by the whole family—were always had twice a day, and after the beginning of the war, when the President of the Confederacy asked in a proclamation for special prayers every day for the soldiers, they were held also at 1 o'clock, a custom which has been kept up in the household ever since, though some one characterized it as a Mohammedan custom. Whenever a clergyman came to the house he was always asked to have prayers before he left. Thus, occasionally, "prayers" were had four times a day.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND.

VARIETY is the spice of love.

Men say they admire a woman with high ideals and principles, but that isn't the kind a woman hesitates to introduce her husband to; it's the kind with high heels and dimples.

It is easier to mend a broken egg-shell than to restore a woman's shattered faith.

When will men find something more interesting to talk about, read about and write about than "why a woman does things?"

Marriage is the black coffee that a man takes to settle him after the love-feast.

Love is the feeling that makes a man turn on the hot water when he means to light the gas; go hunting for a collar when what he wanted was a pair of socks; shave every day, and forget whether or not he has had any lunch.

Happiness is at high tide at the full of the honeymoon.

After a man has seen you cry two or three times it ceases to move him—except to move him out of the house.

An old bachelor's looks may be well-preserved, but his heart is always embalmed.

Some wives who pride themselves on having made their husbands over must feel awful when they look at their handiwork.

A man seldom marries when he loses his heart; he waits until he loses his head.

It takes a flirt to fool a flirt.

It's a funny thing about being in love, that the minute a man begins to get serious he begins to get foolish.

THE IDLER AND THE GILDED CAGE.

A Husband May Be a Delightful Mate but One Might See Too Much of Him, Says This Writer.

By MYRA HEWES.

THE spring flock of escaped victims from the ennui of the Gilded Cage is unusually large. And no wonder. In almost every instance the husband has been out of a job.

A girl is almost as bad off when she marries a rich man who does nothing as one who marries a poor man who has nothing to do.

The idle husband may possess the qualities of a most delightful mate, but when it comes to 365 days and evenings of uninterrupted devotion it does seem a little like rubbing it in. There is no love or friendship that can stand the test!

It seems too bad, too, when there are so many noble and even thrilling occupations for a rich man that would afford a respite without the devoted pair having to step down and out and break up the tea party entirely.

There are plenty of elevating and amusing occupations which a man of wealth will find absorbing in interest and at the same time command the attention and admiration of everyone. Anything—anything that will keep his interest from lagging and absorb his attention.

This superfluous energy must be worked off somehow. The good substantial blood inherited from his ancestors who made his fortune; firing him on to honest toil, must find an outlet, and it is just as well for him to make the public howl as to raise Cain in his own nest.

His wife is never idle. There is no slave of toil who works harder than a woman of fashion. The struggle with dressmakers alone is enough to reduce her to a wisp. Then she must see callers, when she needs rest; she must attend functions when she needs sleep; she must entertain and be brilliant and merry at all times; she must keep up the social campaign. She must battle against enemies and plan diplomatic maneuvers to ward off jealousy. It is quite as much of a cut-throat business as in the world of toil or politics.

These are all trying and nerve wracking enough, but when she must also encounter her erstwhile mate at every turn, upstairs, downstairs, coming in, going out, everywhere, and in the wildest haste stop to have a quarrel as to whether the decorations should be white orchids or pink orchids, whether the pattern in the rug is Turkish or Indian, or whether they should go out in an automobile or a coach and four, it is asking her to stand a good deal.

Many of the happiest marriages are with men of great wealth who keep their faculties and sentiments alive with some form of occupation or business interests. No one is so exalted that there is nothing more to obtain.

A girl marries a gilded idler. He is like a plant that stagnates in a pool of brackish water. His only object in life is amusement; naturally he finds the dreary monotony of matrimony homeopathic doses compared to the strong medicine required to keep up his interest. He spreads the atmosphere of ennui around him, which quenches all the fire of enthusiasm, extinguishes every gleam of sentiment, and without sentiment what is life?

ENGAGED GIRLS MUST TRUST LOVERS.

BY HELEN OLDFIELD.

THERE are some engaged girls who always worry, testing the spirit thermometer of love with nervous fingers. Every time they go out for a walk with their fiances their frends and family expect them to return with sad faces, if not actually in tears, fearing lest a change has come over the spirit of their love's dream.

The woman who idealizes her lover makes a mistake. Probably he is neither better nor worse than the average man, and while her love for him, and especially her belief in him, may go far to making him better than he otherwise would be, it does not render him perfection.

It is not a wise thing for a woman to attempt to monopolize her lover. No man likes it, however much it may testify to his sweetheart's devotion; it is well to give him plenty of rope—men drive best with a loose rein—only be sure to bring him up with a short pull, now and then, just for the sake of letting him know how firmly he is held.

No end of trouble between lovers, whether engaged or securely tied in the bonds of matrimony, is caused by touchiness, which they prefer to designate as "sensitiveness," a sensitiveness which implies so great and tender care for their own feelings and prejudices as to preclude all consideration for those of other people. It never should be forgotten that love is the sweetest and most blessed gift of God to mortals, a treasure which should be kept free from selfishness and from sordid ambitions; for, as hath been well said, "The god of love is a jealous god, and gives to drink of the blessed water of life and happiness only to those who in truth and unselfishness worship humbly at his shrine." When such worship cannot be given, it is far better to render none.—Chicago Tribune.

SICK ROOM HINTS FOR NURSES.

How to Make the Patient Comfortable and Aid the Physician in Effecting a Cure.

GOOD NURSING is half the battle for life in cases of severe illness, and for this reason every girl should be instructed in certain general knowledge concerning the sick room. No one who lacks tact should ever be admitted to a sick room. The first, mid dle and last qualification of a nurse is tact; she needs more tact than a le ader of society. As to the instruction, first, the room containing a patient sho uld be quiet, not only as to sounds, but in the colors. In fevers or other illness es where there is delirium, or the brain is very weak, the patient may be serious sly affected by a wall paper of pronounced design or coloring. For instance, the diseased mind often forms fantastic shapes out of mural effects that to well persons are hopelessly commonplace.

Care should be taken that the bed does not face the light. It must be at such an angle that the ill persons can see some softened brightness, if strong enough to bear it, but the eyes must be protected. This precaution is extremely important.

The air should be fresh, though not cold, unless under special instructions from the physician, to keep it at a temperature lower than the ordinary.

If the nurse has on any garments that rattle or scrape as she moves, she should be forbidden the room, for a starched petticoat may be horribly irritating in illness, and stiff silk should never be worn into the room. Such details as these seem trifling, but taken in the aggregate they save the strength that muse be preserved in the patient.

Everything about the bed should be fresh, not only clean, but unmussed. There is restfulness in smooth sheets and untossed pillow cases, and blankets that are evenly spread seem to have less weight than those in bunches and folds.

A fresh gown should be put on every morning. The professional manner of making this change is not difficut for an amateur to imitate, so there is little danger of the sick person catching cold.

The night gown is put on in this way: One arm is slipped out of the soiled garment first, and then the other, the patient sitting up, if strong enough. Then the fresh robe is immediately put over, and as it covers the shoulders, the old one is drawn down just enough to permit the arms to go into the clean one. The top of the fresh gown is thus in place. Meanwhile the old one is pulled off from the feet, the clean one being pulled down smoothly and gently, but very rapidly. Al this must be done under the sheets, so that no draft strikes the invalid.

All orders given by the physician must be carried out to the letter. Medicines should be administered as he directs, and at the precise moment, neither earlier nor later. All nourishment prescribed must be of the best quality, and carefully prepared; very cold if ordered in that way, or hot, and not lukewarm. It should be distinctly understood whether or not the invalid is to be waked for medicine or food. Whispering in a sick room is a great mistake; when necessary to say anything it should be done in a low tone. Talking, as a rule, frets a seriously ill person, and conversing should be forbidden.

A BOON TO COFFEE LOVERS

Don't drink ordinary coffee if it disagrees with you. It does with many people.
Don't waste your time and money trying to learn to like coffee substitutes. They are unsatisfactory. They can never be made to take the place of real coffee.
You can drink coffee, no matter what your past experience has been, but you must buy coffee that is purified
It is not real coffee that does harm.
It is the bitter, poison-bearing Cellulose that is contained in all coffee that causes bad after effects.

PURI-TAN-ATED BRAND COFFEE

by specially constructed machinery has had removed from it the parts that are surcharged with the elements that are a positive poison to many people.
It is the Poison in the useless, bitter chaff that causes Headaches, Sleeplessness, Biliousness, Nervousness, a sallow complexion, Nausea, Flatulency and other disagreeable derangements.
In "Puri-tan-ated" Coffee this chaff has been taken out and discarded. When you buy "Puri-tan-ated" Coffee you get only the part of the berry that contains the nourishing elements that are desirable, and the essential oils that give to the beverage brewed from it its delicious taste, and the Caffeine, the mild stimulant that doctors agree is most beneficial, as it causes no re-action and is a wonderful digestion promoter.
Physicians everywhere prescribe and recommend "Puri-tan-ated" Coffee to their patients who have had to abandon other coffees in the past; they also use it in their own families.
The fact that "Puri-tan-ated" Coffee carries Caffeine, Caffeol and Fat to the extent of over 14 per cent in excess of the amount that the United States standard authority requires coffee must contain of these desirable elements, shows why a pound of "Puri-tan-ated" Coffee will go about one-fifth further than any other coffees.
In brewing coffee from "Puri-tan-ated," use less coffee and thus save money, and notice that the beverage you brew is more delicious than any you have ever before used. This is because the bitter tasting, poisonous ingredients are not there to detract from the delicious flavor. BRIDESMAIDS.

THE day is not very far distant when the bridemaids will really have picturesque as well as pretty dresses. The bridal frocks of today are mostly lovely. The old idea of stiff satin has more or less disappeared, and delightful effects are obtained by soft, trailing draperies, beautiful lace, embroideries, tulles and chiffons.

One of the prettiest ideas for weddings is to adopt a particular style, and have all the frocks in accordance. Take, for instance, the 1830 period—always a popular one. Very charming are the little flowered gauze, with borders or flounces of taffetas, worn with big scarves and quaint bonnets of the period, with wide taffetas strings.

Most effective, too, is the Spanish style of dress, that is to say, rather short frocks in bright colorings, worn with Spanish lace mantillas. The Empire period is very often pretty for young girls.

BASEBALL

PENNANT FOR DETROIT AGAIN, SAYS JENNINGS, OF HOT WEATHER TEAM

ROWING

ON MISSISSIPPI GIVEN NEW IMPORTANCE BY RACE BETWEEN 8-OARED CREWS

COMMENT

FIRST PLACE OR BUST, SAYS TIGER CHIEF

Jennings Confident His Tailenders Will Again Capture American League Flag.

HUGHEY JENNINGS, the manager of the trailing Detroit champion ball club, now in this city to play a series with the Browns, is waving no distress signal. Last place in the American League race seems to cause him no worry. He is as cheerful as a spring robin and absolutely confident that his boys are going to be pushing the leaders within a few weeks. Jennings say two things have kept back his club. One is the poor condition of his pitchers and the other the cold weather his team has been encountering ever since the season opened.

"We don't seem to have any cold-weather pitchers," said he. "We had a lot of bad weather on the training trip and we have had nothing but bad weather ever since. In the South, my veteran pitchers were not able to get in shape and the young fellows that I added to the staff for this year are hardly equal to the task of beating such strong clubs as Cleveland, St. Louis and Chicago with any regularity.

"We hardly expect to get up with the leaders now until the old pitchers do get in shape for work, and then we'll climb fast. Donovan is coming along nicely and might have been able to help us out some already, but I will not take a chance on working him in this kind of weather. We will need him badly enough when the hot June, July and August days arrive, and I think he can do his share of the work in that time.

"The chilly weather has taken much of the fire out of the team, too. The boys are not fielding and running the bases as they will when the hot days come. They are afraid to take a chance on a lot of plays for fear of throwing the game away. We won the pennant last season by aggressive playing and we expect to do the same this year, but we can't get that aggressiveness started until the season and weather permit it.

Conditions Favored Sleighing.

"Saturday in Detroit was as cold and nasty a day as I saw all winter. It snowed as though it might be January and the wind blew fiercely from the Great Lakes. One can not even think good baseball in such surroundings. We played several days in Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago, when baseball should not have been thought of. Cleveland had two or three pitchers that worked through it in fine style, while our men performed as though they would much rather be hugging the radiator.

"We have a long Eastern trip just ahead of us, too, but I expect to climb up in the race while on this trip. I believe the Western clubs are much stronger than those of the East and we will surely beat those fellows down there, beginning next week. Cleveland is always a hard club at this time of year and so is Chicago at any time of the year. St. Louis has been surprisingly strong this spring and gives promise of keeping up the pace all summer; so there is little reason for us to worry because these three clubs have put a crimp in our standing right at the start.

"If you will remember, we made a bad start a year ago. No one picked us even in June as possible pennant winners. This delayed start is not troubling me yet. If we are in last place on July 1, then I will begin to worry."

Many Fans Disappointed.

The postponement of the Sunday game disappointed a big crowd of St. Louis fans. Two Sundays in succession without baseball has been tough for them and much worse for the club owners. A record crowd was expected one week ago when the Chicago White Sox were here, but the drizzling rain spoiled it all. Once more the clouds emptied their contents on the ball park early yesterday afternoon, and again banished all hope of a game.

The weather promises to be fair today and the grounds will be in fine shape with an hour or two of sunshine. With the exception of the loss of money, the St. Louis club gained by the rest of one day. The men will be fit and in fighting trim for the first battle with Detroit today.

Manager McAleer has announced that he intends to pitch Rube Waddell against the champions in the opener. Rube has just recovered from a bad cold and sore throat and his arm is in splendid working order now. His left-handed curve worries the Tigers more than any other curver in the American League. Detroit seldom expects to win when the Rube pitches against it.

In the first series that the Browns played with Detroit something more than a week ago up in their chilly town, St. Louis copped two of the three games and took them rather easily. Hard luck in the third prevented them from making it three straight. Last season it seemed almost impossible for St. Louis to win from Detroit. But with the changed line-up of the Browns, it is like an entirely new team now that is fighting so nicely.

Detroit will likely pitch one of her young recruits in the game today, probably either Summers or Maloy.

However, Killian is the man who beat the Browns in the series at Detroit and he will undoubtedly be given a chance in this series. George Mullin will likely take charge of the Tuesday game.

ONE CARDINAL WHOSE WORK HAS BEEN CONSISTENTLY GOOD THROUGHOUT AND WHO IS MAINSTAY BEHIND BAT

ONE of the few pleasant surprises that Manager McCloskey has had this year has been the promising work of Arthur Hostetter as a catcher. It was generally expected that the Cardinals would be weak behind the bat, but this clever young player, with his splendid arm, has made that spot on the team sound.

DAILY SHAKE-UP AGAIN A LOSER

Cardinals Drop Two to Chicago by Ragged Infield Work.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 4.—The daily shake-up of the Cardinals was repeated in the double-header against the Cubs here, Manager McCloskey, who the previous day had run in Barry at short, pulling his captain out of the fray and sending O'Rourke to shortfield and Shaw to the outer garden in the second game. The Cardinals lost both games, 4-2 and 3-2.

McCloskey is almost in tears over his inability to complete his infield. None of the league managers with good men will let them go. He has tried for Starr of the Pirates, Lobert of Cincinnati and Hofman of Chicago. Clarke, Ganzel and Chance have all laughed at his entreaties. It now appears that the Cardinals will have to keep O'Rourke on the job and try to polish him into something more brilliant as a fielder.

Yesterday's games were a repetition of the team's history for the season. Good pitching prevailed in both, for the most part, and the Cardinals had a shade the better of it in the second, Beebe holding the Cubs to four hits. Had the Cardinals been able to do anything behind him, his effort would have been a winning one.

INJUNCTION MAY SAVE DERBY DAY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4.—The directors of the new Louisville Jockey Club will apply for an injunction today to restrain Mayor Grinstead and the Board of Public Safety of Louisville from interfering with the race meeting which is scheduled to open here tomorrow with the thirty-fourth renewal of the Kentucky Derby as the feature.

Churchill Downs, the racecourse, is outside the city limits, and, therefore, the racing officials claim, the city of Louisville has no jurisdiction. The additional claim is advanced that Mayor Grinstead overlooks the statute which permits betting by the Paris mutual system on any track in Kentucky.

RUN-DOWN PEOPLE OF ST. LOUIS NEED VINOL

The Modern Strength Creator and Body-Builder.

Many people right here in this vicinity are all run down and hardy able to drag about—don't know what ails them.

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred this is caused by overwork, too close confinement or continued strain and worry.

Such people need Vinol, our cod liver preparation without oil, which contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but from which the useless oil has been eliminated and tonic iron added.

Vinol cures conditions like this because in a natural manner it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body.

We ask every man, woman and child in this vicinity who is run down, tired and debilitated to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo.

OARSMEN IN FIRST RACES OF SEASON

Crews of Western Rowing Club Hold Opening Regatta on the Mississippi.

Three races composed the program for the opening regatta of the Western Rowing Club on the Mississippi River yesterday afternoon, the eight-oared shell race, which was won by the single men, being the feature event.

The eight-oared shell race was the first ever decided between local crews. The single men of the Western Rowing Club pulled against the married men of the same organization. The race was a mile downstream, the finish being at a point in front of the clubhouse, 5000 South Broadway.

The water was rough, but the single men hit up a fast stroke and won rather easily by two lengths.

A special four-oared shell race between the junior and intermediate crews furnished plenty of excitement. The race was at one mile downstream. The crews were on even terms most of the distance. The intermediate crew won out by several feet by a great spurt at the finish. A barge race, in which the Defender crew won from the Louisiana six furnished the other event on the program. About 800 persons witnessed the races.

John J. Schaab announced that the race for the William J. Lemp trophy, valued at $500, for eight-oarder shells, would be decided on the river on June 21. The contest will be over a two-mile course, upstream, the finish to be at the Western R. C., as that club has been made sponsor for the trophy. It was also announced that the National Regatta would be held at Springfield, Mass., on Aug. 14 and 15, as was originally announced.

Williams and T. Jones have made but two errors all season, Jimmy making his two in one day and playing errorless ball otherwise throughout the season. Tom Jones' work is all the more remarkable when it is taken into consideration that he has been playing with a bad hand. His last error came Saturday on a throw of Ferris far over Tom's head.

SULLIVAN AND ABE FAKE AGAIN

Attell Victory Prearranged, According to Letters Received by Beaten Man's Friend.

It is practically certain that "Brooklyn" Tommy Sullivan "faked" with Abe Attell in their bout in Frisco last week. The men met last Thursday night. Thursday morning "Big" John Quinn, manager of Sullivan, declares that $2000 was on deposit in a Frisco bank that Sullivan would quit before Attell in less than ten rounds. The fight was to have gone 20.

A man high up in the sport world here, and a friend of Sullivan, stated yesterday that some time ago he had received a letter from Sullivan telling him that he was having trouble making the weight, 123 pounds, at 5 o'clock. Sullivan added that it had been suggested to him to agree to quit before Attel and come in at any weight. The local man is reported to have written to Sullivan telling him to become a party to such an agreement, but to double-cross Attell and when he got him in the ring, to try to beat him.

Then came the news from Frisco that Attell had agreed to allow Sullivan to weigh in at 126 pounds. Also the news is said to have been received from Frisco that Sullivan was "broke" could not make the weight and was forced into Attell's terms to "fake" and that $2000 had been posted that he would fulfill his agreement.

A local restaurant man, a close friend of Quinn and Sullivan's, who had been making heavy wagers on Sullivan to win from Attell, went around and tried to have these bets called off. He offered to compromise on them and stated that if they were not called off that he would not pay them.

In the ring with Attell Sullivan showed none of his speed, cleverness or anything else. He went down from light punches and then stopped in the fourth.

MANY TEAMS FOR BIG ATHLETIC MEET AT C. B. C. SATURDAY

Eight Institutions Have Entered Men for the Games.

St. Louis and Washington Universities as well as James Milliken University, Missouri School of Mines, Shurtleff College, Illinois College, Central Wesleyan College and St. Charles M. A., have all agreed to enter teams in the intercollegiate athletic meet which will be held under the auspices of the C. B. C. on the college campus Saturday afternoon.

All of the regular A. A. U. events with the exception of the 56-pound weight throw and the five-mile run will be decided. The meet promises to be a close one as, on their showing so far this season, the track teams of the different institutions seem well matched.

10,000 CHICAGO FANS ARE TO HONOR COMISKEY WITH PARADE

Gov. Deneen and Mayor Busse and Illinois Officials to Participate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Chicago baseball fans tomorrow will celebrate "Comiskey Day" by the largest baseball parade the city has ever known. Ten thousand "fans" will form in the downtown district at 10 o'clock and will march to the White Sox grounds, on the South Side. The White Sox and Cleveland teams will head the parade and Gov. Dineen and Mayor Busse and a large delegation of Illinois mayors will participate.

The object of the parade is to do honor to Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American League team.

STAGG'S STAR ATHLETE HURT

CHICAGO, May 4.—Maroon hopes of a winning track team this spring have received a severe blow with the announcement that John Schommer, star high jumper of the University of Chicago team, will not be able to don a track suit again this year on account of a split muscle in his left hip.

Schommer's physician has ordered him to give up athletics altogether and Coach Stagg will have to seek another to fill his place.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

THESE batting averages show queer freaks. For example, have a look at the work of the Browns' sluggers to the present time. The figures depict a deplorable condition of affairs on McAleer's team, if the inference to be gained by a casual glance is adopted. This will show that of the four men who are batting over .300 on the team, three are pitchers; and that of the other batsmen, the only club swinger who is rating above .250 is a catcher.

Now, slugging pitchers, one .300 regular and a rabble of .240 batters is not a championship aggregation, and at first sight the fan is apt to curl up and tell himself that the toboggan is coming. The team's batting average is .224, which would not be bad when it is considered that every Tom, Dick and Harry breaking into a game or two gets figured into the total. But to offset this is the fact that the heavy hitters are the boxmen, who have taken part in but few games and who are sure to come rattling down the cliffs when they go against the fire of 140 games.

And yet the Browns have seemed to bat well. Doubtless, the popular impression is that Williams, Ferris and Tom Jones have been bandying the ball around the lot almost at will. The team has fought its way up from bad starts in a number of games, and that always means batting. Yet the cold figures show that Ferris and Williams are batting .226, while Stone, the much harried leader of the regulars, is pounding away at .321.

Yet there is some ground for hope, even in the meager returns of the batting bunch. The very fact that the pitchers are topping regulars in hammering the ball shows that the order of precedence is reversed and that several members of the veteran squad have not attained mid-season form.

Wallace, for example, is far below his best form. Hoffman, Charley Jones, Williams and Ferris are all good for at least .250 and at present they are trying to outdo the battery talent in a race for a poor percentage. By the time the team starts East for an invasion of the enemy's country its batting should have more properly adjusted itself to the relative strength of the individuals composing the club; that is, if a little sunshine will come out to thaw out the thews and sinews of the vets.

Good Year for Stone.

GEORGE STONE should be in the hunt for the batting championship this season. Last year Stone, after wretched work for nearly two months, during which period he had a desperate time graduating from the novice division of .200, returned to form toward the latter half of the year and was finishing the season at almost a .400 galt. With a splendid start this season, there seems no reason now why he should not maintain his regular stride throughout the 154 games, and this will surely bring him to the end of the year with .350—the figure which led in both leagues last season.

There are several faults to Stone, but one of them is not his hitting. Stone gets on base, steals bases, scores runs and drives in runs with the best of them. About the only thing he cannot do is to throw a runner out at the plate from left field. That is a serious fault, sometimes, but the chances are far between.

Modern Athletes Superior.

THOSE ancients were not such awful bears in the line of athletics when you come to look at it right. The Greeks, about cheesecloth kilt stage of civilization, were supposed to be all the rich cream cheese in the matter of running, wrestling and athletic sports; but if you put some of their achievements against the performances of today and the makers seem to have just graduated from the interscholastic division.

For example, there's that Marathon run. The first man to cover the 24.6 miles run was all in when he finished. In fact, he "cashed in" his mortuary check just after he handed out the news of the battle, the determination of which was the occasion for his attempting such an unheard-of feat.

But Ladas—wasn't that his name?—had a free road and no interference on his run. Just suppose the gentleman had had to hike down that plank road from Freeburg and thence down Belleville pike, with half a hundred autos breathing gasoline fumes and churning up dust for him to breathe. The result at Thermopylae would have been a long time reaching headquarters.

Saturday 31 of 34 runners finished the race, and all were in excellent shape at the club when examined by Dr. Gradwohl. Not an ache or a pain was reported Sunday as a result of the contest—at least none except heartaches. That really means something in the way of endurance. It approximates 50,000 strides to cover the distance; and this without any flagging or cessation of pace. That Central Y. M. C. A. youngster, Habig, had built himself just about the right idea of the race, even though he could only live up to it for about 19 miles. He figured that an average of six minutes to the mile over the course was about all the frame of an athlete could stand. He set out to shoot at this mark, and mile after mile he made it. He faltered in the end, but events proved that he had hit the mark almost exactly, the winner finishing almost to the notch with an average mark of six minutes.

Ladas an Easy Mark.

Almost any one of the first four men would have "lost" the historic gentleman who is responsible to the world for this classic event and who gave his life in perpetuating it. And, notwithstanding the croaking of a few pessimists, it is gratifying that the sacrifice required of the Greek soldier is no longer asked of participants in 25-mile events today, for the simple reason that, with proper conditioning, there is nothing about the race to do more than fatigue a sound athlete. Every year several Marathons are held, at different places about the country—Boston, Chicago, St. Louis and elsewhere, and there has yet to be reported a serious collapse.

After getting away to an exceedingly poor start, Danny Hoffman hit safely for nine successive days to Saturday.

Wallace has been hitting weakly since returning from the road and has gone five days without a safety, he having been 18 times at bat.

Ferris' life at the bat is certainly short and sweet, Hobe failing to accept a pass so far this season. The last three days the tidy little third baseman has made

Crusinberry's Comment On the Game

Harry Howell will quite likely pitch one of the Detroit games. He is after revenge for the beating Detroit gave him in the last of the three games played at Detroit recently. The Tigers had no license to beat him that day, but luck was with them.

Bill Bailey and Graham got away with one of the three games up in Detroit, although Howell had to be called into service in the ninth inning to save it when it seemed about to slip away. McAleer likes the idea of pitching left-handers against the Tigers and may give Graham another chance tomorrow.

Ty Cobb looks a bit bigger and stronger than last season. He also is just as lively on the bases as ever. Not since the olden days has there been a baserunner in the game equal to Cobb. Then we have only the reports of the old-time fans, many of whom say there were several back in the '80's just as fast. We hardly think they had as good catchers in those days. However, let the old fan have his way.

Charley O'Leary, the grand and speedy little shortstop for the Tigers, has a brother engaged in business in this city who is also a baseball player and pitches for the Ellendales of the Trolley League on Sundays. The O'Leary family is made up of ballplayers, for Charley has two more brothers playing in the minor leagues.

Joe Yeager, who has been ill with rheumatism and fever and has been sent to the hospital, is reported in much better condition but far from able to take up his work on the ball field. Joe will hardly be able to help the club any before it returns from the first Eastern trip. Roy Hartsell will likely be carried along as the utility infielder.

WEDNESDAY DATE IS NOW UP TO JOHNSON

President Ban Johnson of the American League has been appealed to by Managers McAleer and Jennings of the St. Louis and Detroit clubs regarding the advisability of playing off the postponed Sunday game on Wednesday, the latter day being an open date for both clubs. The reason the two managers could not decide was because the St. Louis Cardinals are to play here Wednesday against Cincinnati and they did not like to schedule a conflicting game.

RHEUMATISM CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

Rubbing with liniments, blistering the affected parts, the application of plasters, and other means of external treatment, are usually helpful in relieving the pains and aches of Rheumatism, but such remedies do not reach the CAUSE of the disease, and are therefore in no sense curative. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood, brought about by indigestion, poor bowel action, weak kidneys, and a general sluggish condition of the system. The circulation deposits this irritating poison in the different muscles, nerves, tissues and joints of the body, and soon the painful symptoms of Rheumatism are produced. The pains at first may be wandering and slight; but as the blood becomes more fully saturated with the uric acid poison, the disease grows worse and after awhile gets to be chronic. The slight, wandering pains now become sharp and cutting at the least exposure to dampness or night air, or any constitutional irregularity, the bones ache, the muscles are not as free in action as before, and where the acid poison is allowed to remain in the blood the joints often become so clogged with corrosive substances that they are left permanently stiff and useless. Rheumatism can never be rubbed away, nor can it be conquered and driven from the system until the acid-laden blood has been cleansed and purified. No other medicine does this so effectually as S. S. S. It dissolves and removes the impurities and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which soothes the irritated nerves, inflamed muscles and flesh, and the sufferer obtains relief that is permanent. ACTRESS KEPT FROM SPOILING ROYAL WEDDING

Swedish Prince's Marriage to Russian Grand Duchess Uninterrupted.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 4.—Prince Wilhelm of Sweden and his bride, who was the Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, held a grand reception today at the palace of the late Archduke Serge, who was assassinated in 1905. They will leave Friday for Stockholm.

Through the vigilance of the police, Rosa Grunberg, the actress who it was feared might create a scene at or after the nuptials, has thus far been kept away from the royal pair. It was said to be for love of her that Prince Wilhelm delayed his betrothal to the Russian Princess long after the time desired by his father, King Gustave, and his grandfather, the late King Oscar. She was in St. Petersburg shortly before the wedding, which took place yesterday at Tsarskoe-Selo.

Czarina Dresses Her.

The wedding guests assembled at 2 p. m. at the palace. Only Premier Stolypin, members of the Cabinet, members of the Duma and President of the Council ofg State, the Ambassadors to Russia and their wives and a few of the highest dignitaries of the Empire found place in the blue and gold chapel where the ceremony was performed. The other guests were stationed according to their rank in the various salons, through which the bridal procession passed.

The robing of the bride was performed in accordance with court custom in the private apartments of the Czraina. She was dressed by the Czarina and the Dowager Empress, assisted by their maids of honor and their ladies in waiting. The bride wore on her head a jeweled diadem, and from her shoulders hung a long trained mantle of strawberry velvet lined with ermine.

Czar Leads the Party.

The Czar conducted the bridal party to the altar. The wedding rings were brought from the altar on golden salvers and placed upon the fingers of the bride and the bridegroom by the Czar's confessor.

The metripolitan then completed the rites of the Russian marriage service, two of the bride's nearest relatives holding crowns over the heads of the bridal pair. The procession then returned to one of the antesalons, where the Lutheran marriage ceremony was performed by the Swedish bishop of Lund.

N. Y. STOCKS ARE WEAKER AT OPENING

At End of First Half Hour Many Advances Are Recorded.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The entire list this morning opened fractionally lower than Saturday's close. Some few stocks were at parity, including Smelters, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, New York Central and Southern Pacific.

The losses were not very extensive, ranging from ⅛ to ¾ of a point.

There were no special reasons for the recessions. The weakness in the market was probably caused by depression of American securities in London, which were from ¼ to ¾ under Saturday's figures.

In the early part of the market there was little trading, especially in the industrial division.

At the end of the first half hour the market developed considerable strength, almost all the prominent issues recording gains.

Smelters was ½ higher, A. C. P. ¼, the Steels ⅛ each, Atchison, B. R. T. and Southern Pacific ¼ each, Canadian Pacific and Missouri Pacific ¾ each, Great Northern, St. Paul, Reading and Union Pacific ½ each, and C. & O., and Northern Pacific 1 point each.

Pennsylvania was the only stock that suffered a loss in the first half hour, going ¾ below its initial quotation.

The Harriman Pacifics and St. Paul were the market leaders. Outside of these stocks, which were the most prominent of the past week, the market was dull and uninteresting.

NEW YORK, May 4.—12:30 p. m.—The feature of the forenoon hours of the session was the spurt made by Missouri Pacific, which advanced its price 2 points above its opening. This is one of the mysteries of the "street," in the face of decreased earnings and without any noticeable improvement in business it is difficult to understand its present upward movement.

Outside of Missouri Pacific the market was sharply lower than at the opening. New York Central and Southern Pacific were ¾ off each.

Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Reading, Amalgamated Copper and the Steel stocks made no changes. On restricted trading General Electric was advanced 1½ points.

Other rail stocks were from ¼ to ⅝ lower.

Sales to noon were 345,400 shares.

The market closed irregular and losses and gains of a fractional character were recorded throughout the entire list. St. Paul sagged in the last hour of the session, losing nearly 2 points.

ST. LOUIS JEWS DONATE $800 FOR A NEW NATION

Greater Part of Zionists' $1000 Fund, Speaker Says, Was Raised Here.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Joseph Cowen of London was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Federation of American Zionists at Clinton Hall last night. He was cheered five minute when he was introduced as a second Moses, and repeatedly applauded as he painted a glowing picture of a Jewish "world power" in Palestine. When Mr. Cowen called on his hearers for cash contributions there was silence. Then he said:

"I notice that the cheering has ceased. I notice that your enthusiasm has died down; but I tell you we have got to have material aid. Our last Congress voted unanimously for a Jewish national fund and called on every Zionist to contribute no less than 5 francs to it.

"Yet up to the sixth of last month only $1000 had been contributed by the Zionists in the United States, and $800 of that came from St. Louis. Now, you must do better than that. You must meet this demand. Let us show our enthusiasm by material deeds."

FIRST SESSION OF EXCHANGE IS VERY DULL

Only Four Small Sales Effected and at Unchanged Prices.

The first session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange Monday was a tame affair. Only four small lots were disposed of, and at unchanged prices. Quotations were fairly numerous, but they were ineffective in bringing about any sales.

There were no sales the second session.

FINANCIAL ITEMS

While the increase in the number of shareholders of the various corporations has not been as heavy since the first of the year as it was during the panic period, representatives of large corporations declare their transfer books show that few odd-lot holders have been induced to sell on account of the sharp advance since the first of the year.

The shareholders' lists of many of the corporations are as large as they have been at any time since the movement on the part of the public to accumulate low priced securities began.

The following table gives the approximate number of shareholders of several corporations as compared with certain dates previous to the panic in October:

Company.	Shareholders Now.	Shareholders Before Panic.
U. S. Steel	95,000	68,000
New York Central	22,098	16,445
American Tel. & Tel.	24,132	20,478
Big Four	1,650	1,277
Diamond Match	3,300	3,000
Nickel Plate	807	630
Am. Sugar Refining	20,000	14,000
Standard Oil	6,400	5,600
Amalgamated Copper	18,000	12,000

The majority of the corporations say that not in history have they been able to report so many shareholders.

The New York Central's shareholders on July 15, 1907, numbered 14,020.

Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States are $2,077,994,083, 24.1 per cent under a year ago and 37.3 per cent less than in the corresponding week of 1906. The losses this week are accentuated by the fact that the week in both preceding years includes two and three days, respectively, of the first days of May when monthly settlements through the banks always add materially to bank clearings; this year the week ends on the last day of April. The decrease in bank exchanges is evenly distributed, though New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Baltimore and San Francisco report losses somewhat in excess of the average. Kansas City again reports a gain, and the losses at some of the leading Western cities is below the average. Average daily bank exchanges for the year to date are compared below for three years:

	1908.	1907.	1906.
April	$348,227,000	$440,106,000	$474,884,000
March	334,107,000	519,562,000	442,124,000
Feb.	337,922,000	487,052,000	523,568,000
Jan.	392,811,000	526,789,000	584,577,000

Dispatches to Dun's Review from branch offices of R. G. Dun & Co. in the Dominion of Canada indicate little change in the general situation, manufacturing activity being curtailed, but navigation is now open and some improvement in shipment of goods is to be expected. Montreal reports navigation open to the sea, the first ocean steamship leaving on May 2. There is some activity in shipping spring supplies to river and lake points, principally groceries and heavy goods. Many cotton mills continue idle or working on reduced time, and the production of cheese is expected to be light owing to the large slaughter of livestock during the fall and winter because of the scarcity of fodder. Wholesale trade is quiet at Toronto, fair sorting orders appearing in dry goods and millinery, but the volume is not equal to expectations. Hardware and metals are more active owing to an increase in building operations.

Iron and Steel.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Wall Street Journal says: "The foreign demand for iron and steel goods during the current year has been larger than in any previous year. The value exported in the nine months ended March amounted to $145,565,259, as compared with $132,025,706 in the corresponding period of the preceding year.

"In March, however, the shipments abroad fell off somewhat, being valued at $15,165,910, as against $16,419,116 in 1907, which is a decrease of 7.6 per cent.

"The exports of hardware had the greatest value—$11,824,000, which compares with $10,914,000 in 1907. The following table shows the more important commodities exported for the nine months:

	1908.	1907.
Billets, ingots	$2,085,302	$2,151,505
Steel rails	7,374,413	6,343,879
Structural iron	6,063,552	4,999,167
Wire	6,900,792	6,384,400
Hardware	11,824,440	10,914,023
Electrical machinery	6,800,048	6,375,622
Metal working machin.	7,266,886	6,946,604
Sewing machines	6,068,865	5,897,895

Typewriting machines	4,874,432	4,544,091
Pipes	9,253,190	5,948,355

"The exports of the last item show the largest gain in the past year. Only one of the above commodities shows a decrease in value for the nine months of the present year.

"Europe remains our best customer. The Far East and South America also make large demands upon domestic manufacturers."

SOUTHERN CATTLE—Nearly all of the 1000 head of quarantine cattle received today were Oklahoma and Texas steers of good to choice quality, and they sold actively at strong prices, in line with the strong prices paid in the native division.

Among the day's sales were two cars of Oklahoma fed steers of choice quality, weighing around 1300 pounds, that sold at $6.75, with six loads averaging about 1200 pounds at $6.60; good Texas grass steers that sold from $5.65 to $5.80, some common Texas bulls at $3.25@3.45 and a load of Arkansas mixed stock that sold from $2.50 to $3 per cwt.

HOGS—A good liberal supply of hogs was on sale, as the receipts were the largest for several weeks, but still there was not a great many real good ones on the market. The market opened a little slow, and on a 10c lower basis, but later there was a slight improvement and trading was more active, all buyers being in the market for the good hogs. Two loads of choice hogs topped the day's trade at $5.65.

Several loads of good light and medium weight hogs sold at $5.60, and the bulk sold at $5.50@5.55. Packers were about as good buyers as the shippers and butchers and, consequently, the offerings were cleaned up quite early. Butcher hogs sold at $5.55@5.60, and best shipping hogs at the same prices, while good shippers weighing 130 to 160 pounds sold at $5.25@5.50.

Pigs and lights to meet with a good demand had to be good, as buyers are still refusing to buy the common ones if possible to do without them.

SHEEP—A moderate number of sheep arrived and the market was not materially changed from the close of last week, but still there was a weak feeling and buyers were a little slow to make bids. Colorado wool lambs sold at $7.10, while clipped Western lambs sold from $6.30@6.85. Offerings of natives were very scarce and spring lambs were also not well represented.

HORSES AND MULES—The light run of horses in the auction today averaged good in quality and sold readily. Drivers and Eastern chunks exhibited the most activity.

Practically all of the fresh arrivals today were consigned direct to dealers, one load of commission mules being included in the day's aggregate of 150 head. To qualify for the limited demand mules must have finish and good ages.

WHEAT ACTIVE AT HIGHER LEVEL

Weekly Figures Are Decidedly Bullish and Good General Demand Develops.

There was no lack of orders in the local wheat market Monday morning, there being good activity at somewhat higher prices during the forenoon. The tone at the opening was quite strong, there being much in the initial news, calculated to arouse bullish sentiment and to cause short covering. Liverpool cables were 1d higher, with prices on the continent also strong and the statistics were fully as bullish as expected, world's shipments being small, a decrease of over 3,000,000 bu being shown in the supply on ocean passage, and there being indications of a good decrease in the domestic visible. Corn ruled strong at the start, which also tended to strengthen wheat, and receipts in the Northwest were very light, the total received at Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg being only 209, compared with 1072 last year.

Prices, however, did make the expected response to this news, some disinclination to buy being caused by the bearish Missouri State crop report. After an advance of about ⅝c had been scored, prices sank back to about Saturday's closing levels, advanced slightly, and during the balance of the forenoon ruled nervous at somewhat higher levels. Very little of the morning's trade was in May option.

May wheat opened ¼c higher at 98¼c, and sagged to 98c. July wheat opened ⅛c to ¼@⅜c higher at 85⅝c to 85¾@⅞c, advanced to 86⅛c, fluctuated between 86c and 86⅛c, and sagged to 85⅝@¾c, advanced to 86¼c, and sagged to 86c. September wheat opened ⅝c higher at 83⅛c, fluctuated between 82⅞c and 83c, and advanced to 83⅛@¾c.

World's shipments of wheat were 6,195,000 bu, against 6,592,000 bu last week and 12,800,000 bu a year ago.

Primary receipts of wheat were 568,000 bu, with shipments of 923,000 bu, and local receipts were 59,000 bu, with shipments of 38,000 bu.

With the wet weather over the corn belt, which will retard planting, as the chief featrue, corn ruled quite strong. May corn opened ¼@⅜c higher at 66¼c, and advanced to 67c. July corn opened ¼c higher at 63¼c, advanced to 63½c, sagged to 63¼c, and advanced to 63⅜@⅝c. September corn opened ½c higher at 61⅝c, and was offered down to 61¼c.

JOHNSON'S SENTIMENTS ON CORPORATIONS MADE PLAIN

Governor in Speech Assails Corporate Greed, Watered Stock and False Values.

By Wire from the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Johnson movement in Washington has brought out expressions of the Governor on public questions made in speeches in the West, but never before published except piecemeal. It has been charged that Gov. Johnson is the Wall street candidate for President. In a speech to the Merchants' Club of Chicago the Governor said:

"The tendency of the great to crush the small with the indifference of the elephant to the worm, is too common.

"False capitalization is one of the great causes that brought shock to the faith of the people. Watered stock is the mirage in the desert of our commercial life. The billion dollar steel trust, quoted at 75 cents on a dollar today and 8 cents tomorrow, typifies the class.

"Watered stock is the common phrase of legalized larceny. If the mad race is to stop before the runner falls, corporate business must be reorganized on a rational basis. No corporation should be permitted by law to issue a share of stock that does not stand for paid-in cash and certified to by State examination.

"Every dollar invested in a commercial enterprise should earn a fair profit and every investor is entitled to a fair rate of interest on his investment. But it is not entitled to a rate of interest and profit on stock which has no basis."

GIANTS' SKELETONS FOUND

American Discovers Bones of 200 More Than 8 Feet Tall.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, May 4.—Charles C. Clapp, who has recently returned from Mexico, where he has been in charge of Thomas W. Lawson's mining interests, has called the attention of Prof. Agassiz to a remarkable discovery.

He found in Mexico a cave containing 200 skeletons of men above eight feet in height. The cave was evidently the burial place of a race of giants who antedated the Aztecs. Mr. Clapp arranged the bones of one of these skeletons and found the total length to be 8 feet 11 inches. The femur reached up to his thigh and the molars were big enough to crack a cocoanut. The head measured 18 inches from front to back.

TICKER TALK

Call money on the New York Exchange opened at 1¾ per cent and was quoted later at 2 per cent.

Stuyvesant Fish, who was elected to the directorate of the Missouri Pacific last year and took a position on the Executive Committee, has resigned, declining to discuss his resignation.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Brooklyn Rapid Transit did not show any of its usual Monday morning activity, although the Coney Island and other beach business was very fair. What is troubling the bulls of the stock at present is the heavy loss of passengers by the direct transfer from the Long Island Railroad to Flatbush avenue subway. The surface cars serving that point, or the surrounding district, are carrying very light loads even in the rush hours.

ST. LOUIS MONEY MARKET.

Offerings of collateral loans at the present time are exceptionally light and most of the banks are very glad to get whatever they can in the way of good names at a straight 5 per cent rate. Choice 6 months' loans have been reported within the past day or two as low as 5½ per cent, and this is considered quite unusual, inasmuch as the crop and political uncertainties are to come later on.

New York—In spite of the early strength and relative activity of Union Pacific, some of the traders thought that the people in charge of the operations to advance the market would be not unwilling to let the stock rest if they could safely do so and take up Southern Pacific in its place for a season. The buying of the latter by J. W. Davis & Co. and one or two other houses looked better than that in Union Pacific.

DEATHS.

TOUHILL—On Sunday, May 3, 1908, at 7 p. m., Patrick Touhill, husband of the late Johanna and father of Cornelius E. and Patrick T. Touhill and Mrs. Catherine McHugh.

Business Is Good.

The real estate business is good and improving.

During our long experience we have never seen the time when the public generally had such an abiding faith in St. Louis real estate.

In addition to the large downtown sales and long-term leases now being made, the masses of the people—the great middle class, which makes powerful cities—are buying comfortable homes and lots in the growing sections of the city.

The recent business depression has been the crucial test which has proven good real estate to be the safest, best and most satisfactory form of investment.

Good real estate in this city is no "slow asset"; it can be sold or money borrowed on it with equal promptness and greater certainty than on any other form of security.

General business conditions are good; the future of the city is bright; St. Louis is solid and is growing rapidly.

The panic was over last winter; this is summer.

Turn your back on the past, your face to the future.

Get aboard the New St. Louis Prosperity Wagon.

Show your faith in the city and prove your good business judgment by buying St. Louis real estate.

PEABODYS WIN POST-DISPATCH LEAGUE DISPUTE

Manager Decides Madison Team Was Fairly Defeated.

The game between the Madison and Peabody schools Saturday afternoon in the River Sub-League of the Post-Dispatch Public School Baseball League, which was claimed by both teams, has been awarded to the Peabody School by the Post-Dispatch manager of the league.

The decision was made after several men who witnessed the games had turned in reports to the office of the league in the Post-Dispatch Building.

The Peabody team had the last inning. When the first half of the ninth inning had been finished, the Peabodys started to leave the grounds, as the scorer said the score stood 6 to 5 in their favor.

Dispute Almost Causes Fight.

The Madison team immediately said the score was 6 to 6 and that the last half of the ninth must be played. The Peabodys refused to do this and a free-for-all fight between the players was narrowly averted.

Several of the teams in the league have showed a disposition to complain about every game that is played even when the facts of the game give them no ground for complaint.

This is not sportsmanlike or American and as the league was formed by the Post-Dispatch for the purpose of fostering manly sport among the schoolboys, the teams in the league which do not give evidence of this spirit of fair play will not be encouraged.

On the other hand the conduct of the majority of the teams has been all that could be desired. Captains and players of defeated teams have come to the Post-Dispatch manager of the league to compliment their opponents on their fairness in the game.

Fathers Keep Boys Orderly.

The attendance of the fathers of the schoolboys at the games has contributed materially to the success of the league. In several instances where small boys of pugnacious instincts have started rows, the fathers have stepped in and prevented trouble. The registered umpires of the league have also assisted in seeing that the games are played fairly.

There are now but two more Saturday series to be played before the schedules of the five sub-leagues run out. Then the five pennant winners will meet in a series of games for the public school baseball championship of the city.

All the games in the Post-Dispatch Parochial School League have been played on the C. B. C. campus and no protests have been filed by any of the teams. The Rock Church team, which won the championship last year, is leading the league.

The series of championship games between the Public and Parochial School League pennant winners for the Post-Dispatch gold medals is being looked forward to with keen interest by baseball enthusiasts all over the city.

BEGGS DEFIES PUBLIC; WILL NEVER EXPLAIN

Head of Lighting Trust Says Employer May Ignore Complaints.

CALLS PAPER UNFAIR

Hadley Makes Ready to Hale Union Company Into Court.

John I. Beggs, directing genius of the North American Co., which controls all the lighting and street car facilities of the city, declared to a Post-Dispatch reporter at the Jefferson Hotel Monday that his subordinates "are not required to answer public complaints in reference to overcharges on lighting bills."

"Have you investigated any of those charges yourself?" Mr. Beggs was asked.

"I don't care to make any statement about the matter. "We haven't been given a square deal. Everything that has been said by our representatives has been garbled."

"Then you don't think they ought to explain these public complaints?"

Never Mind the Public.

"They don't have to explain these matters to the public. We have nothing to say, nothing at all."

Mr. Beggs was told that the columns of the Post-Dispatch were at his disposal for any statement in reference to the lighting situation which he may desire to make.

"That is very kind of the Post-Dispatch," he said, "but the invitation comes too late. The Post-Dispatch has not been fair in this matter and we are not going to ask its aid."

The reporter ventured a question in reference to the suit brought by the Circuit Attorney to oust the Lighting Trust, but Mr. Beggs had disappeared before it was completed.

Mr. Beggs came to St. Louis Monday from Milwaukee and held a conference during the morning with President Powelson and other officials of the Union Electric Light and Power Co.

It is understood that Mr. Beggs will also consult the Union company's legal department concerning the ouster proceedings, which are to be prosecuted by Circuit Attorney Sager and Attorney-General Hadley.

Hadley Nearly Ready.

Mr. Hadley says he will be ready to begin the taking of evidence about May 11. From the evidence already in possession of the St. Louis Circuit Attorney's office, Mr. Hadley expects to lay bare the secrets of the Union Electric Light and Power Co.; the financial history of its consolidation of all the other lighting companies in St. Louis and the huge profits made by those who engineered the combination.

The forthcoming investigation will also deal with the question of rates, in so far as this feature is calculated to show that the Union Company has raised or lowered rates for electric light at will, and has been guilty of numerous discriminations.

PREACHER CHARGED WITH DEFAMING THE PRESIDENT

Colorado Mission Worker Pleads Not Guilty and Says Woman Persecutes Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DENVER, Colo., May 4.—Ira D. Williams, a preacher of Iliff, Colo., is under arrest, charged with sending through the mails libelous and defamatory matter touching President Roosevelt.

In 1905 a letter was sent through the Postoffice at Cheyenne upon the envelope of which was pasted a clipping reading:

"God bless our President—what for? Belonging to the murderous Freemasons and making speeches for the bloodthirsty Sons of St. Patrick."

At a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Hinsdale Williams pleaded not guilty. He acknowledged that the letter, or one he had written and mailed, but denied ever having seen the pasted clipping before it was shown to him by a Post-office inspector.

Williams has for years been connected with the Home Missionary department of the Gospel Mission Workers. In an interview he said there was a wicked woman who had hounded his wife and himself since they had resided in Iliff, and this might be her work. While in Cheyenne he discovered and read some of her letters which showed she was about to elope with a married man and he frustrated it. Then she spread evil reports about him.
